THE GREYHUFF REVIEW

The human figure as an art form has been with us since the beginning of recorded history, and no doubt will stay with us into eternity. No other subject can provide such a technical challenge for the artist nor evoke so full a range of feeling and meaning when viewed by the layman.

Unfortunately, photographic documentation of the human figure is not balanced. A wealth of material depicting the female figure is available from countless sources; but the male figure is unjustly neglected and avoided. To help fill this gap, we offer this publication devoted to the male figure, both covered and nude.

It is our conviction that the human body is clean and wholesome and should be viewed with esteem and serenity when seen in its totality. Man's body —in all its infinite variations — was created in God's image, and He created all things good. So long as there are lovers of beauty, there will be reproductions of the human figure, whether it be in stone, in paint, in ink, or on film.

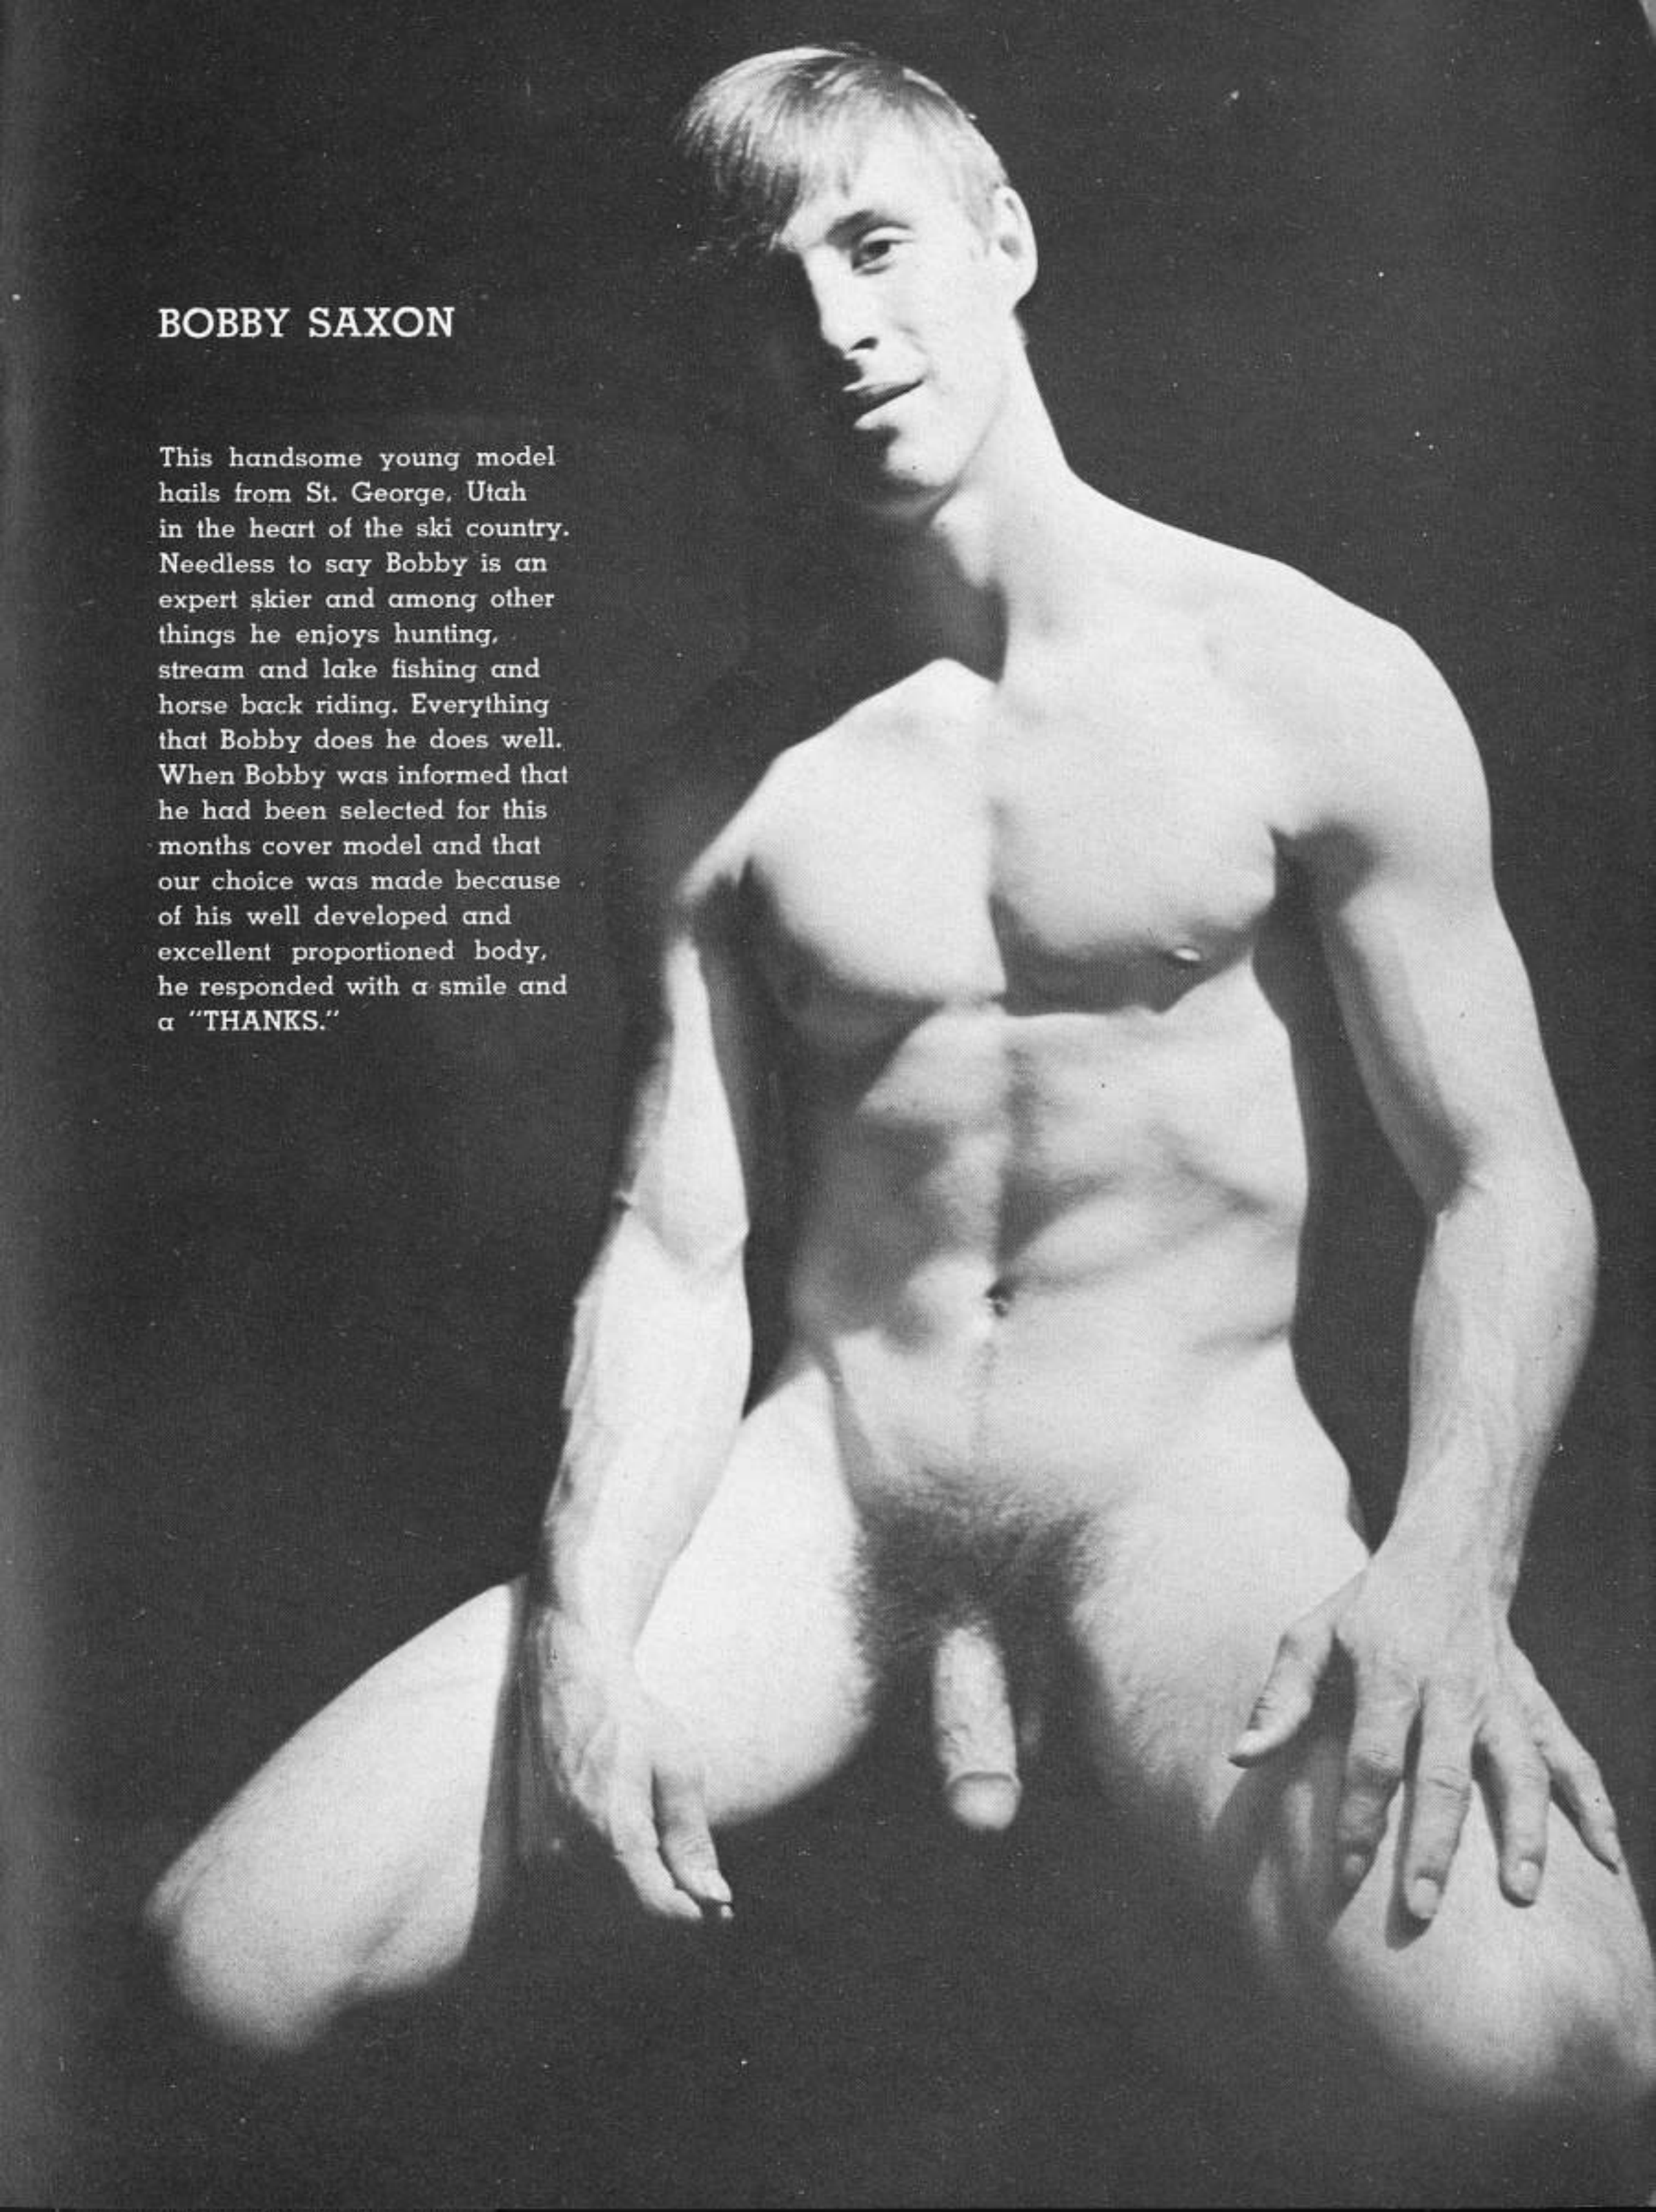
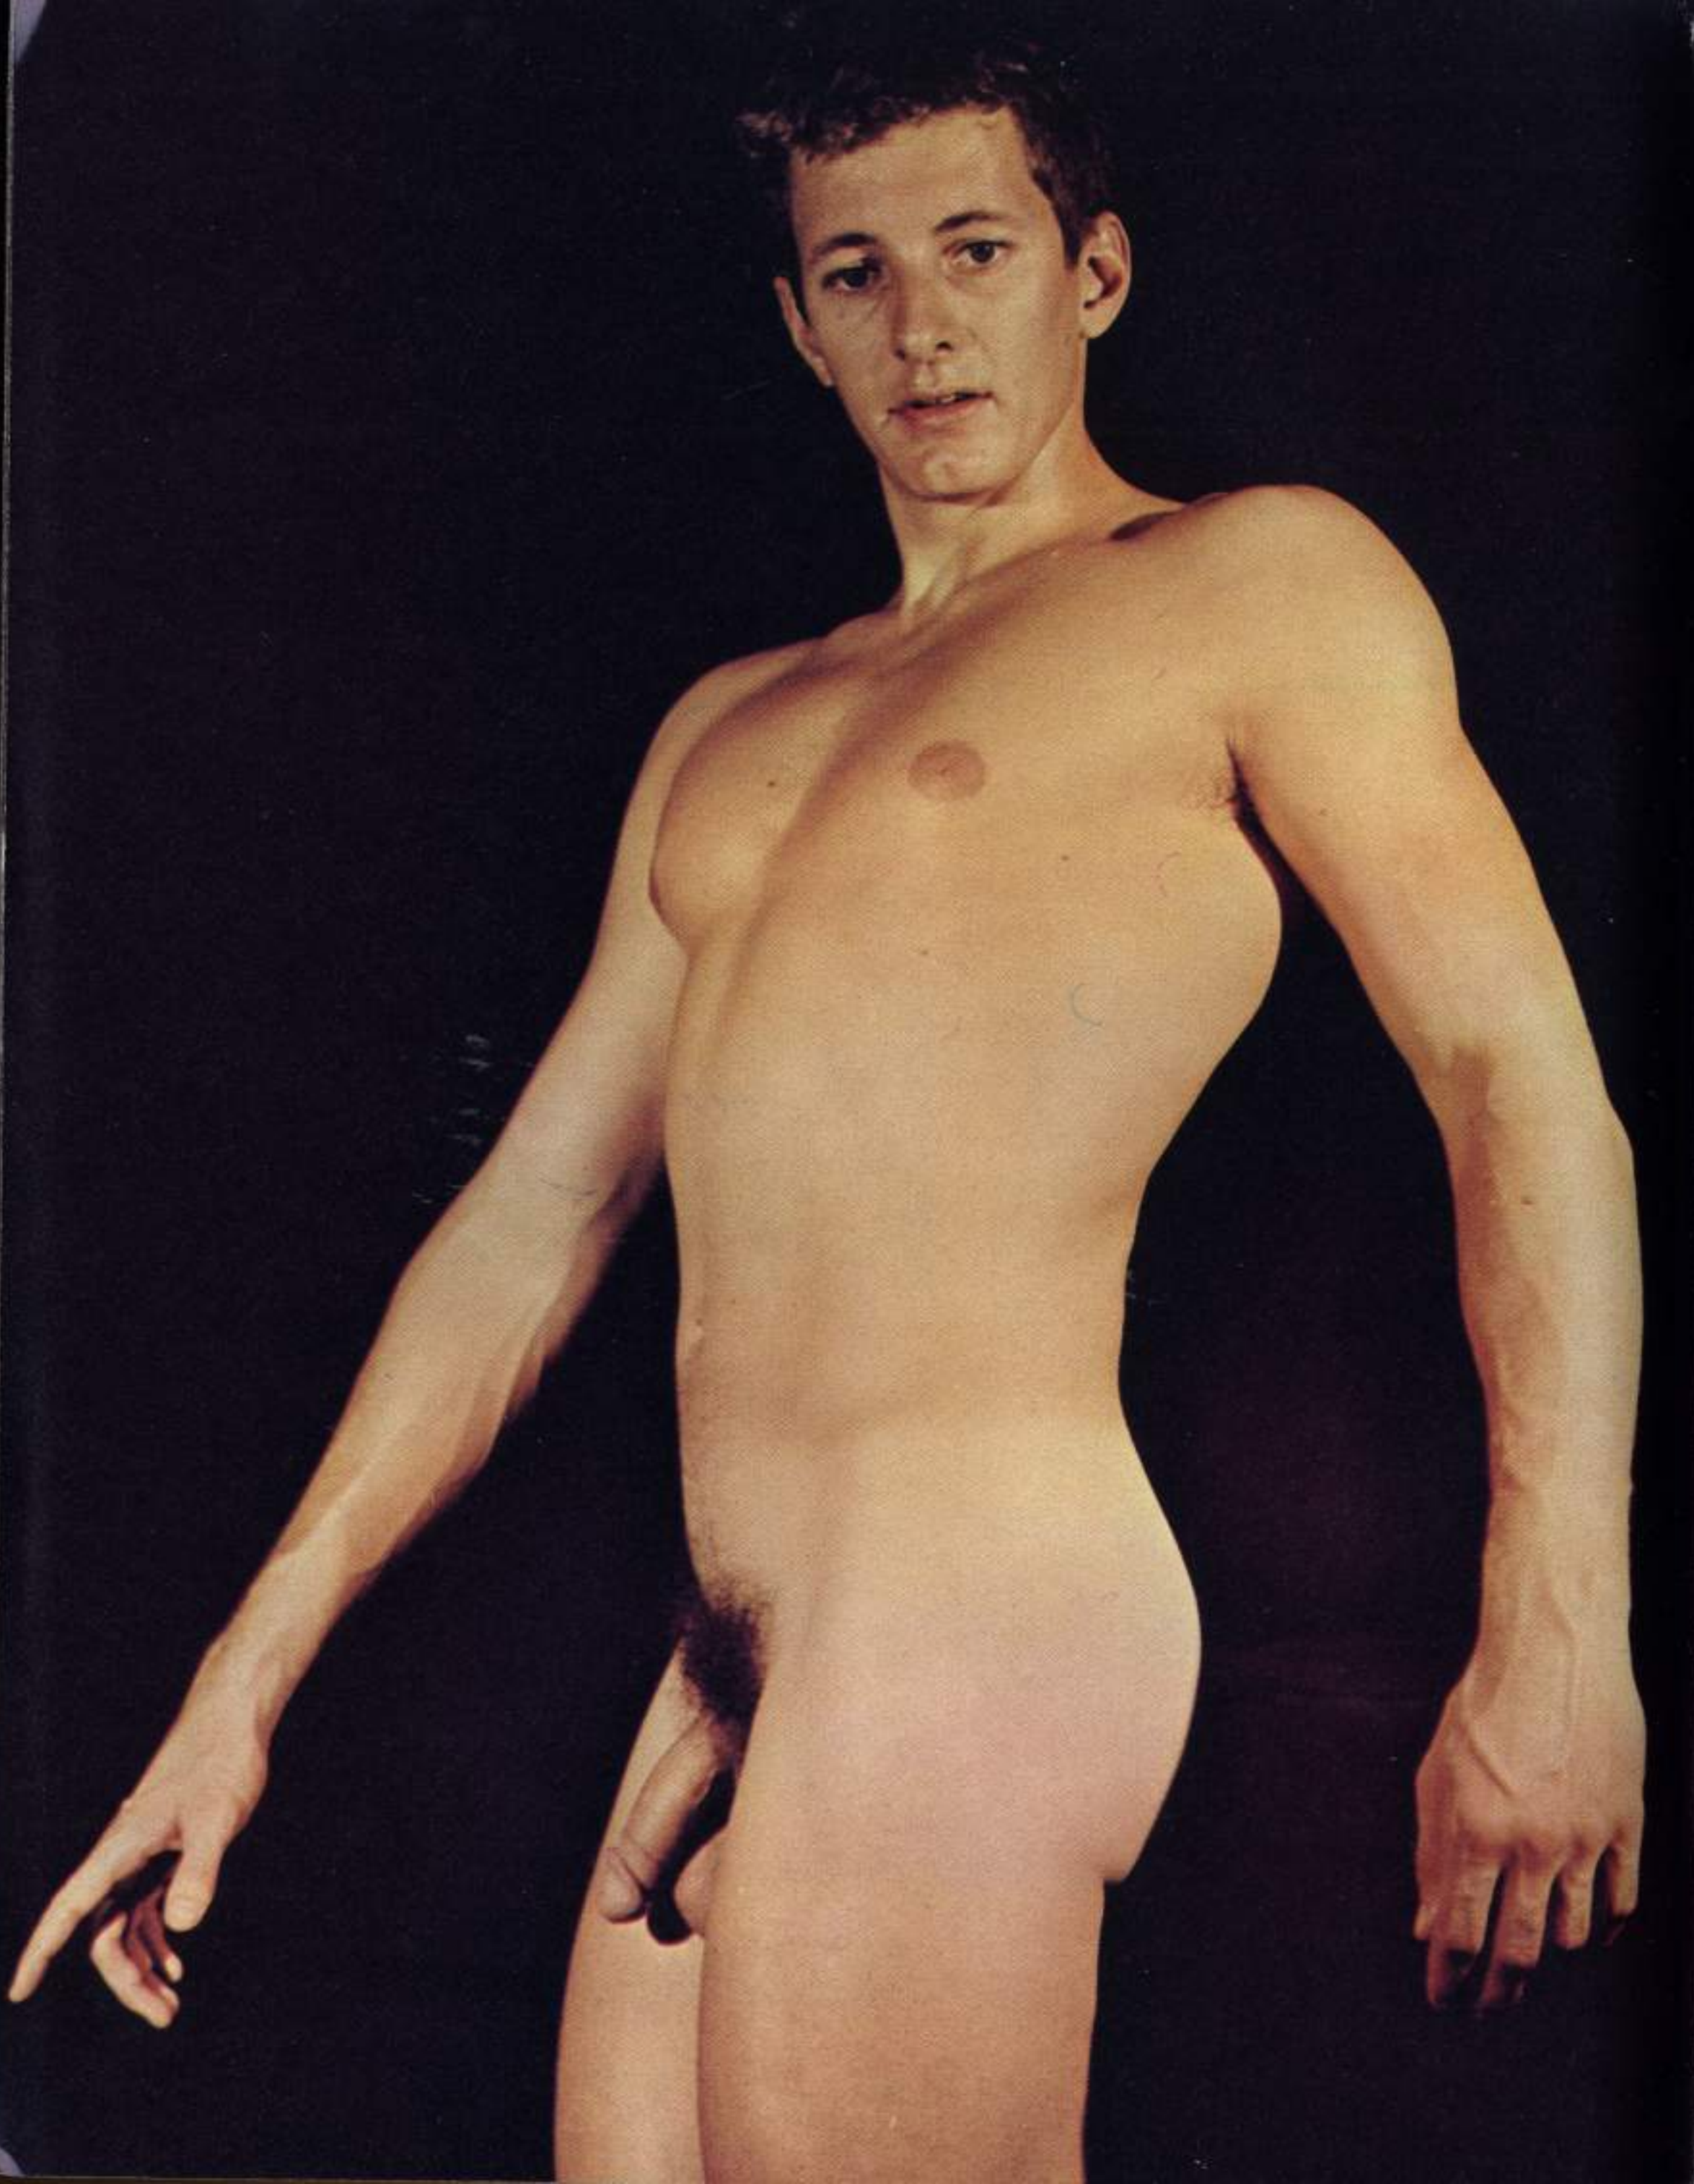
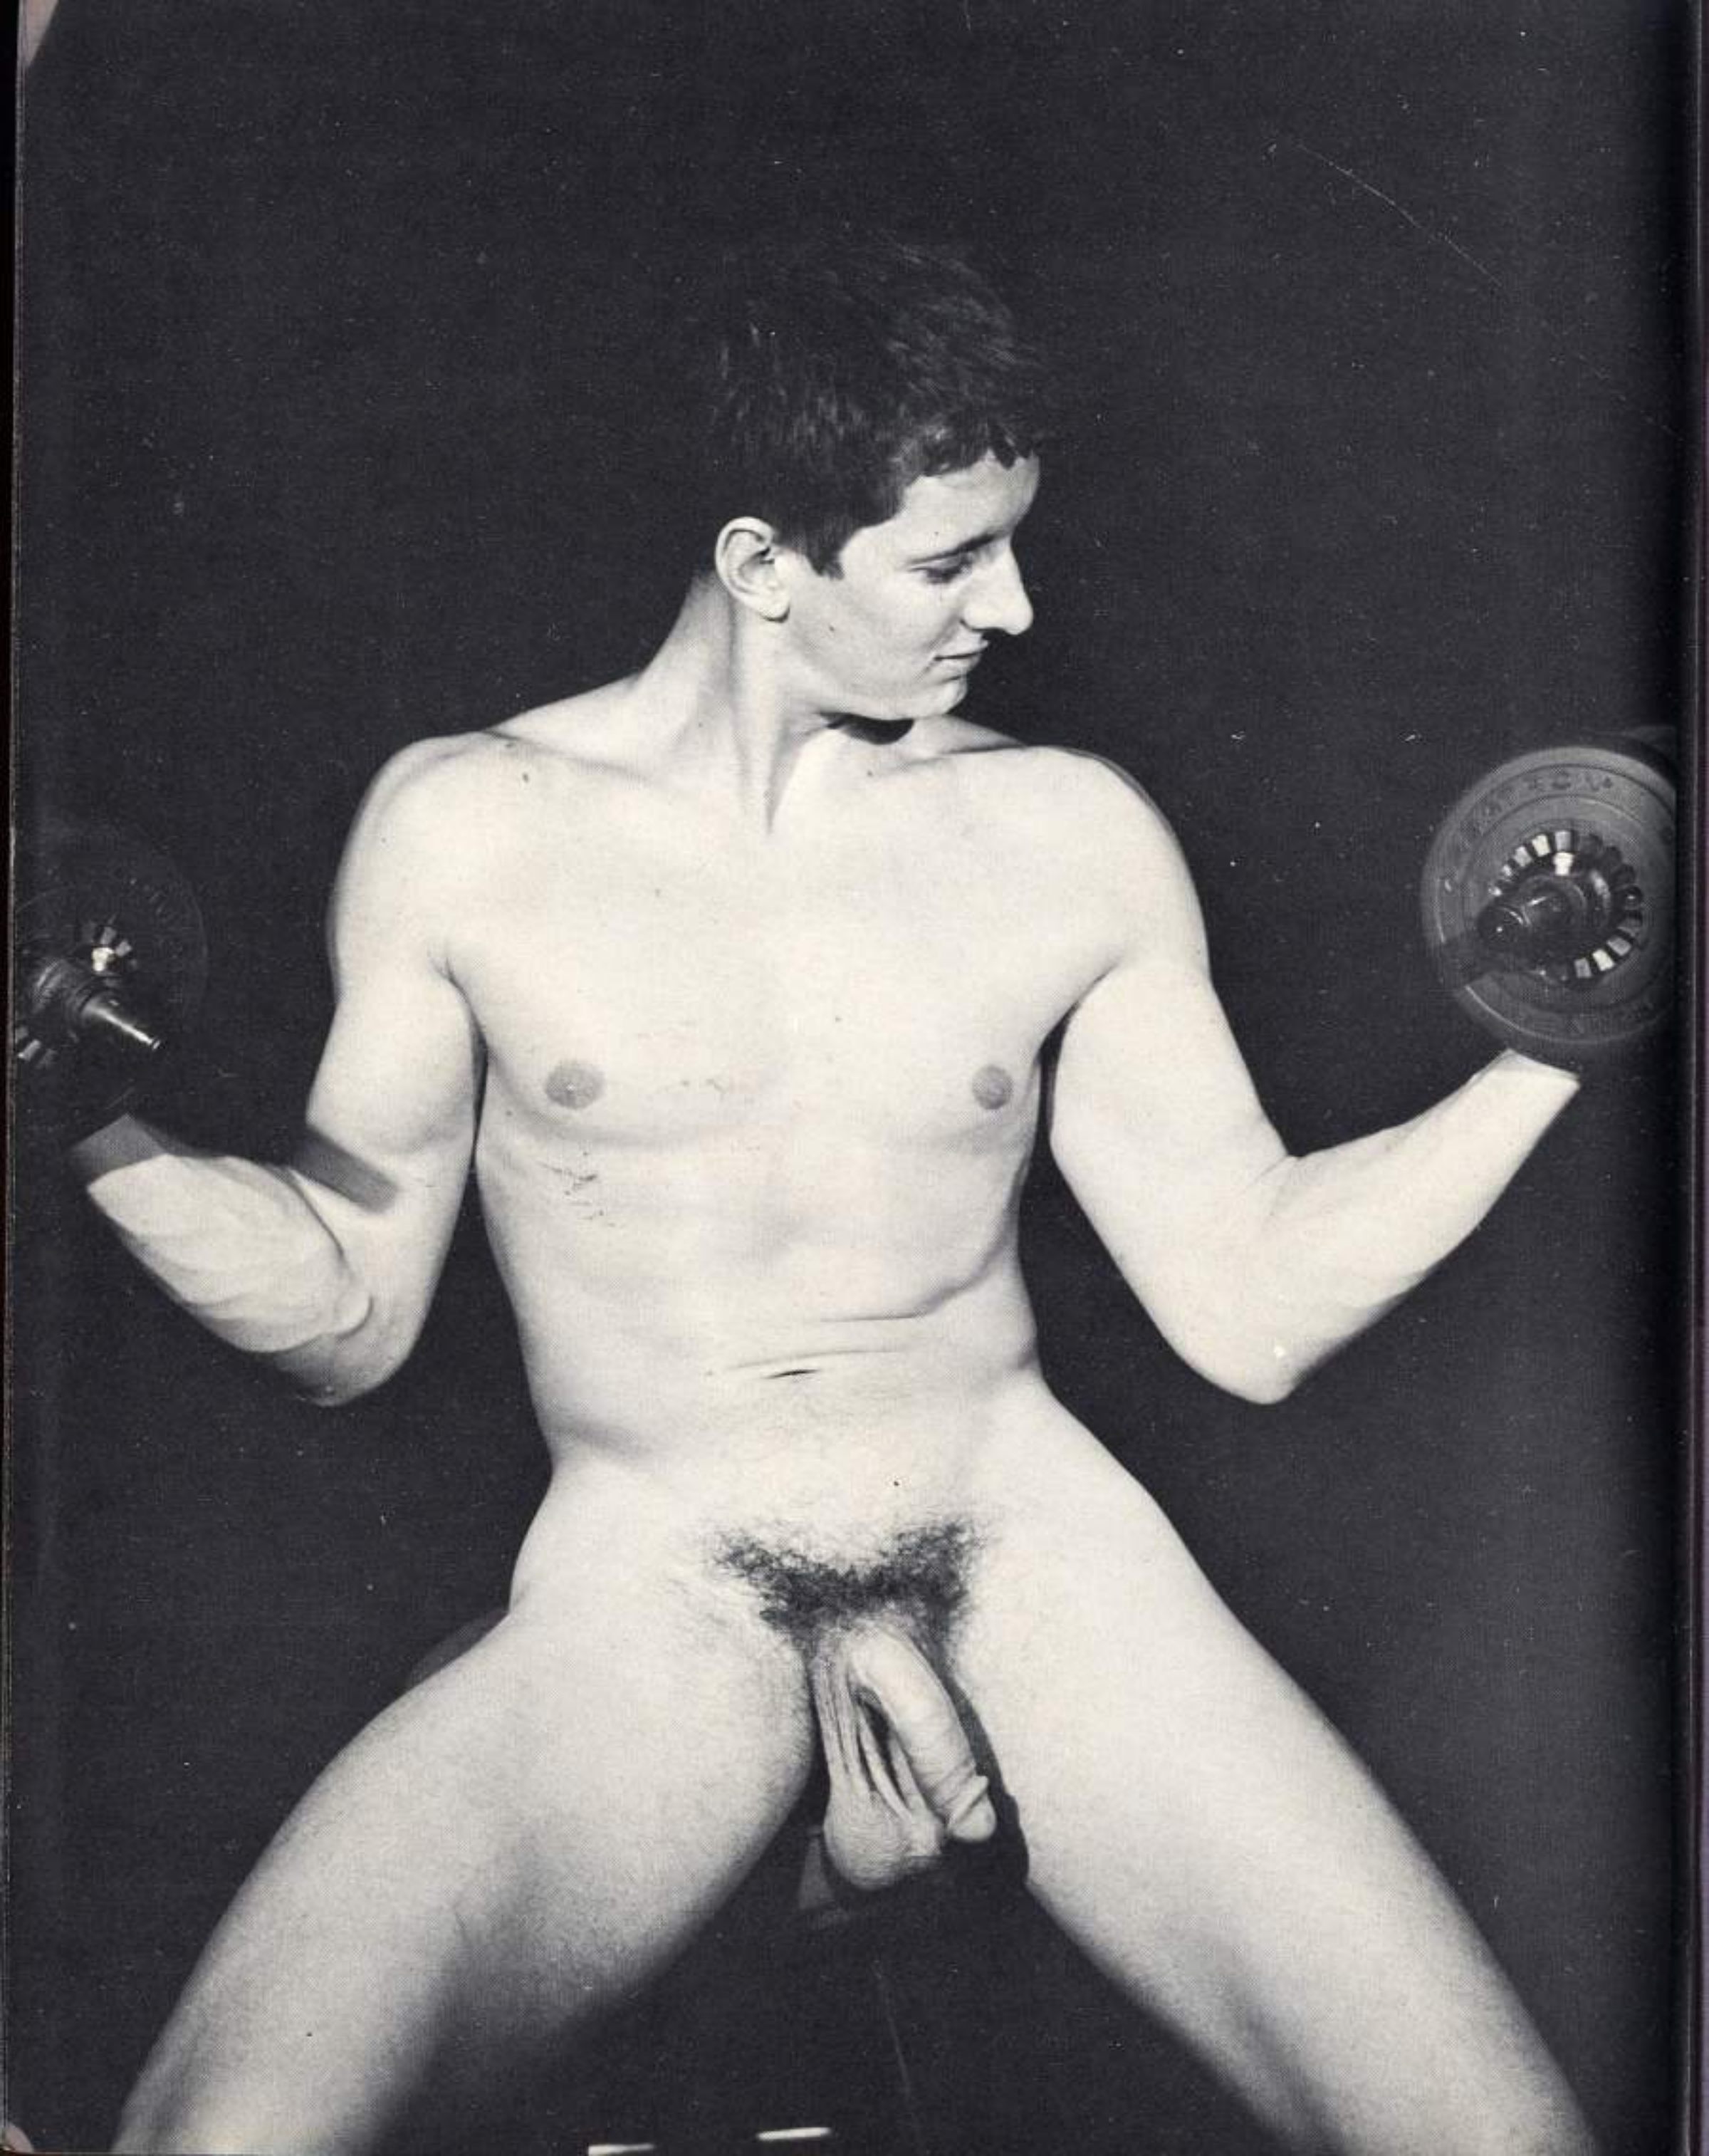
BOBBY SAXON

This handsome young model hails from St. George, Utah in the heart of the ski country. Needless to say Bobby is an expert skier and among other things he enjoys hunting, stream and lake fishing and horse back riding. Everything that Bobby does he does well. When Bobby was informed that he had been selected for this months cover model and that our choice was made because of his well developed and excellent proportioned body, he responded with a smile and a "THANKS."

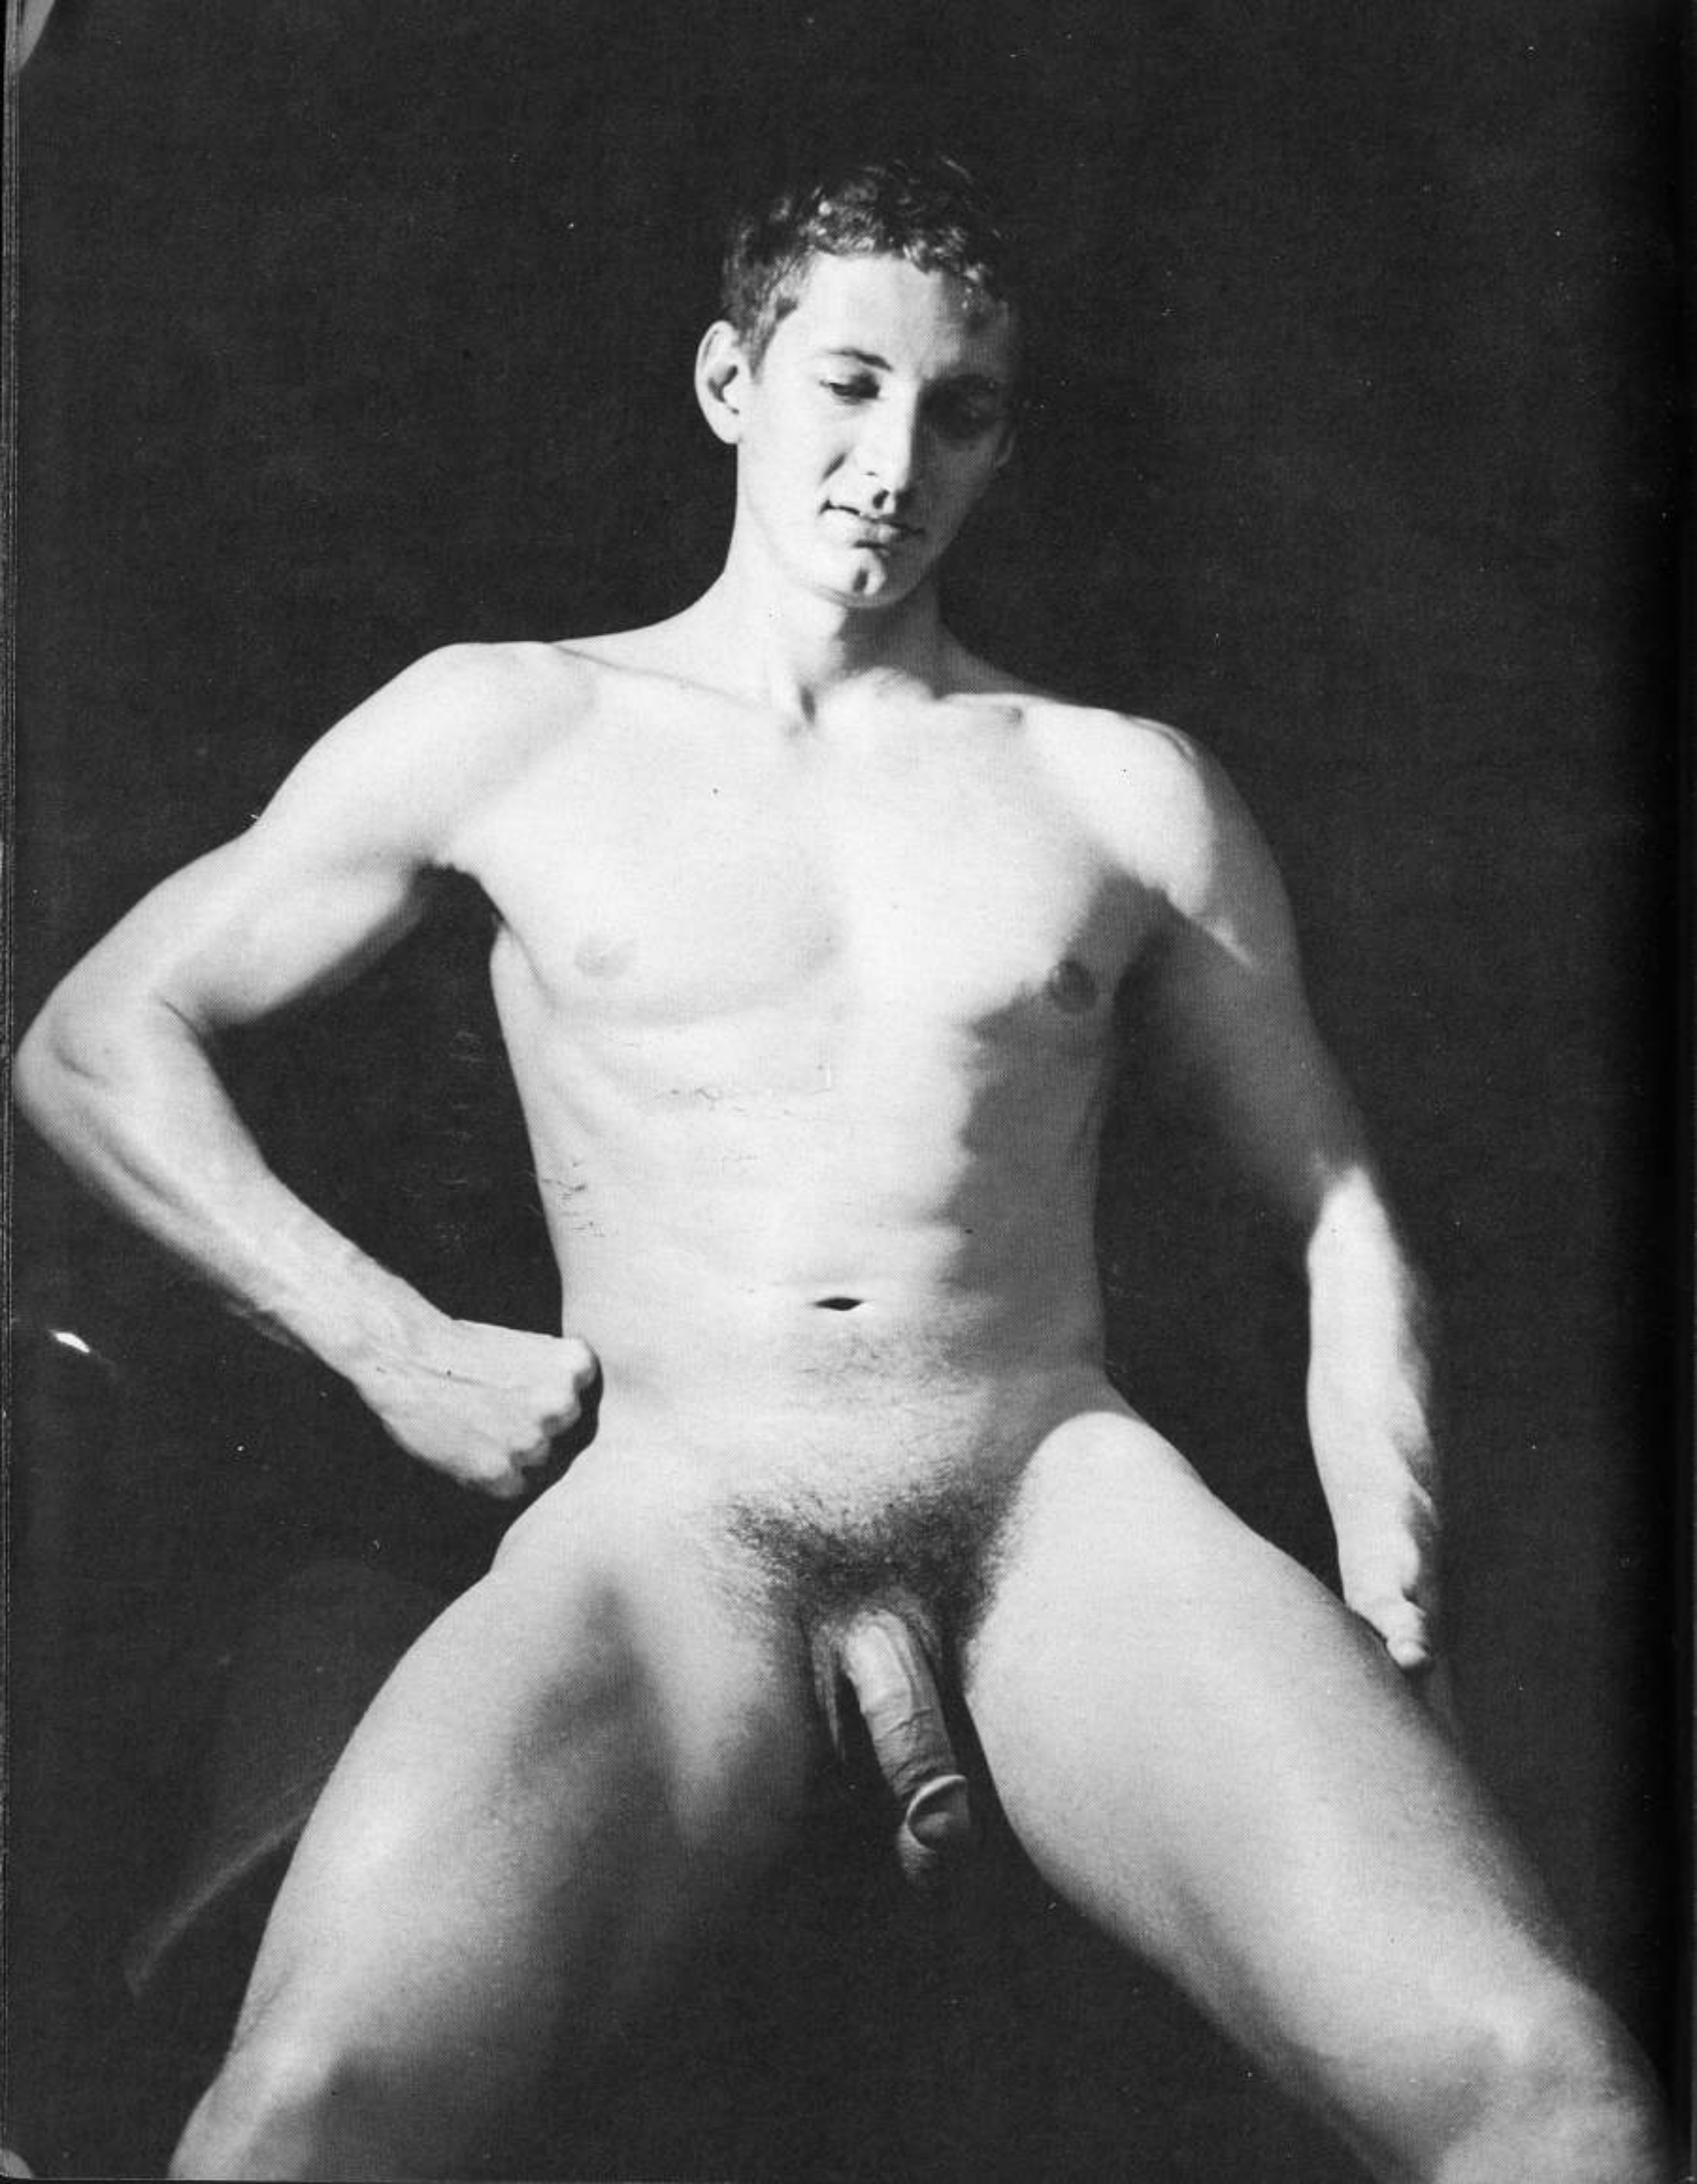






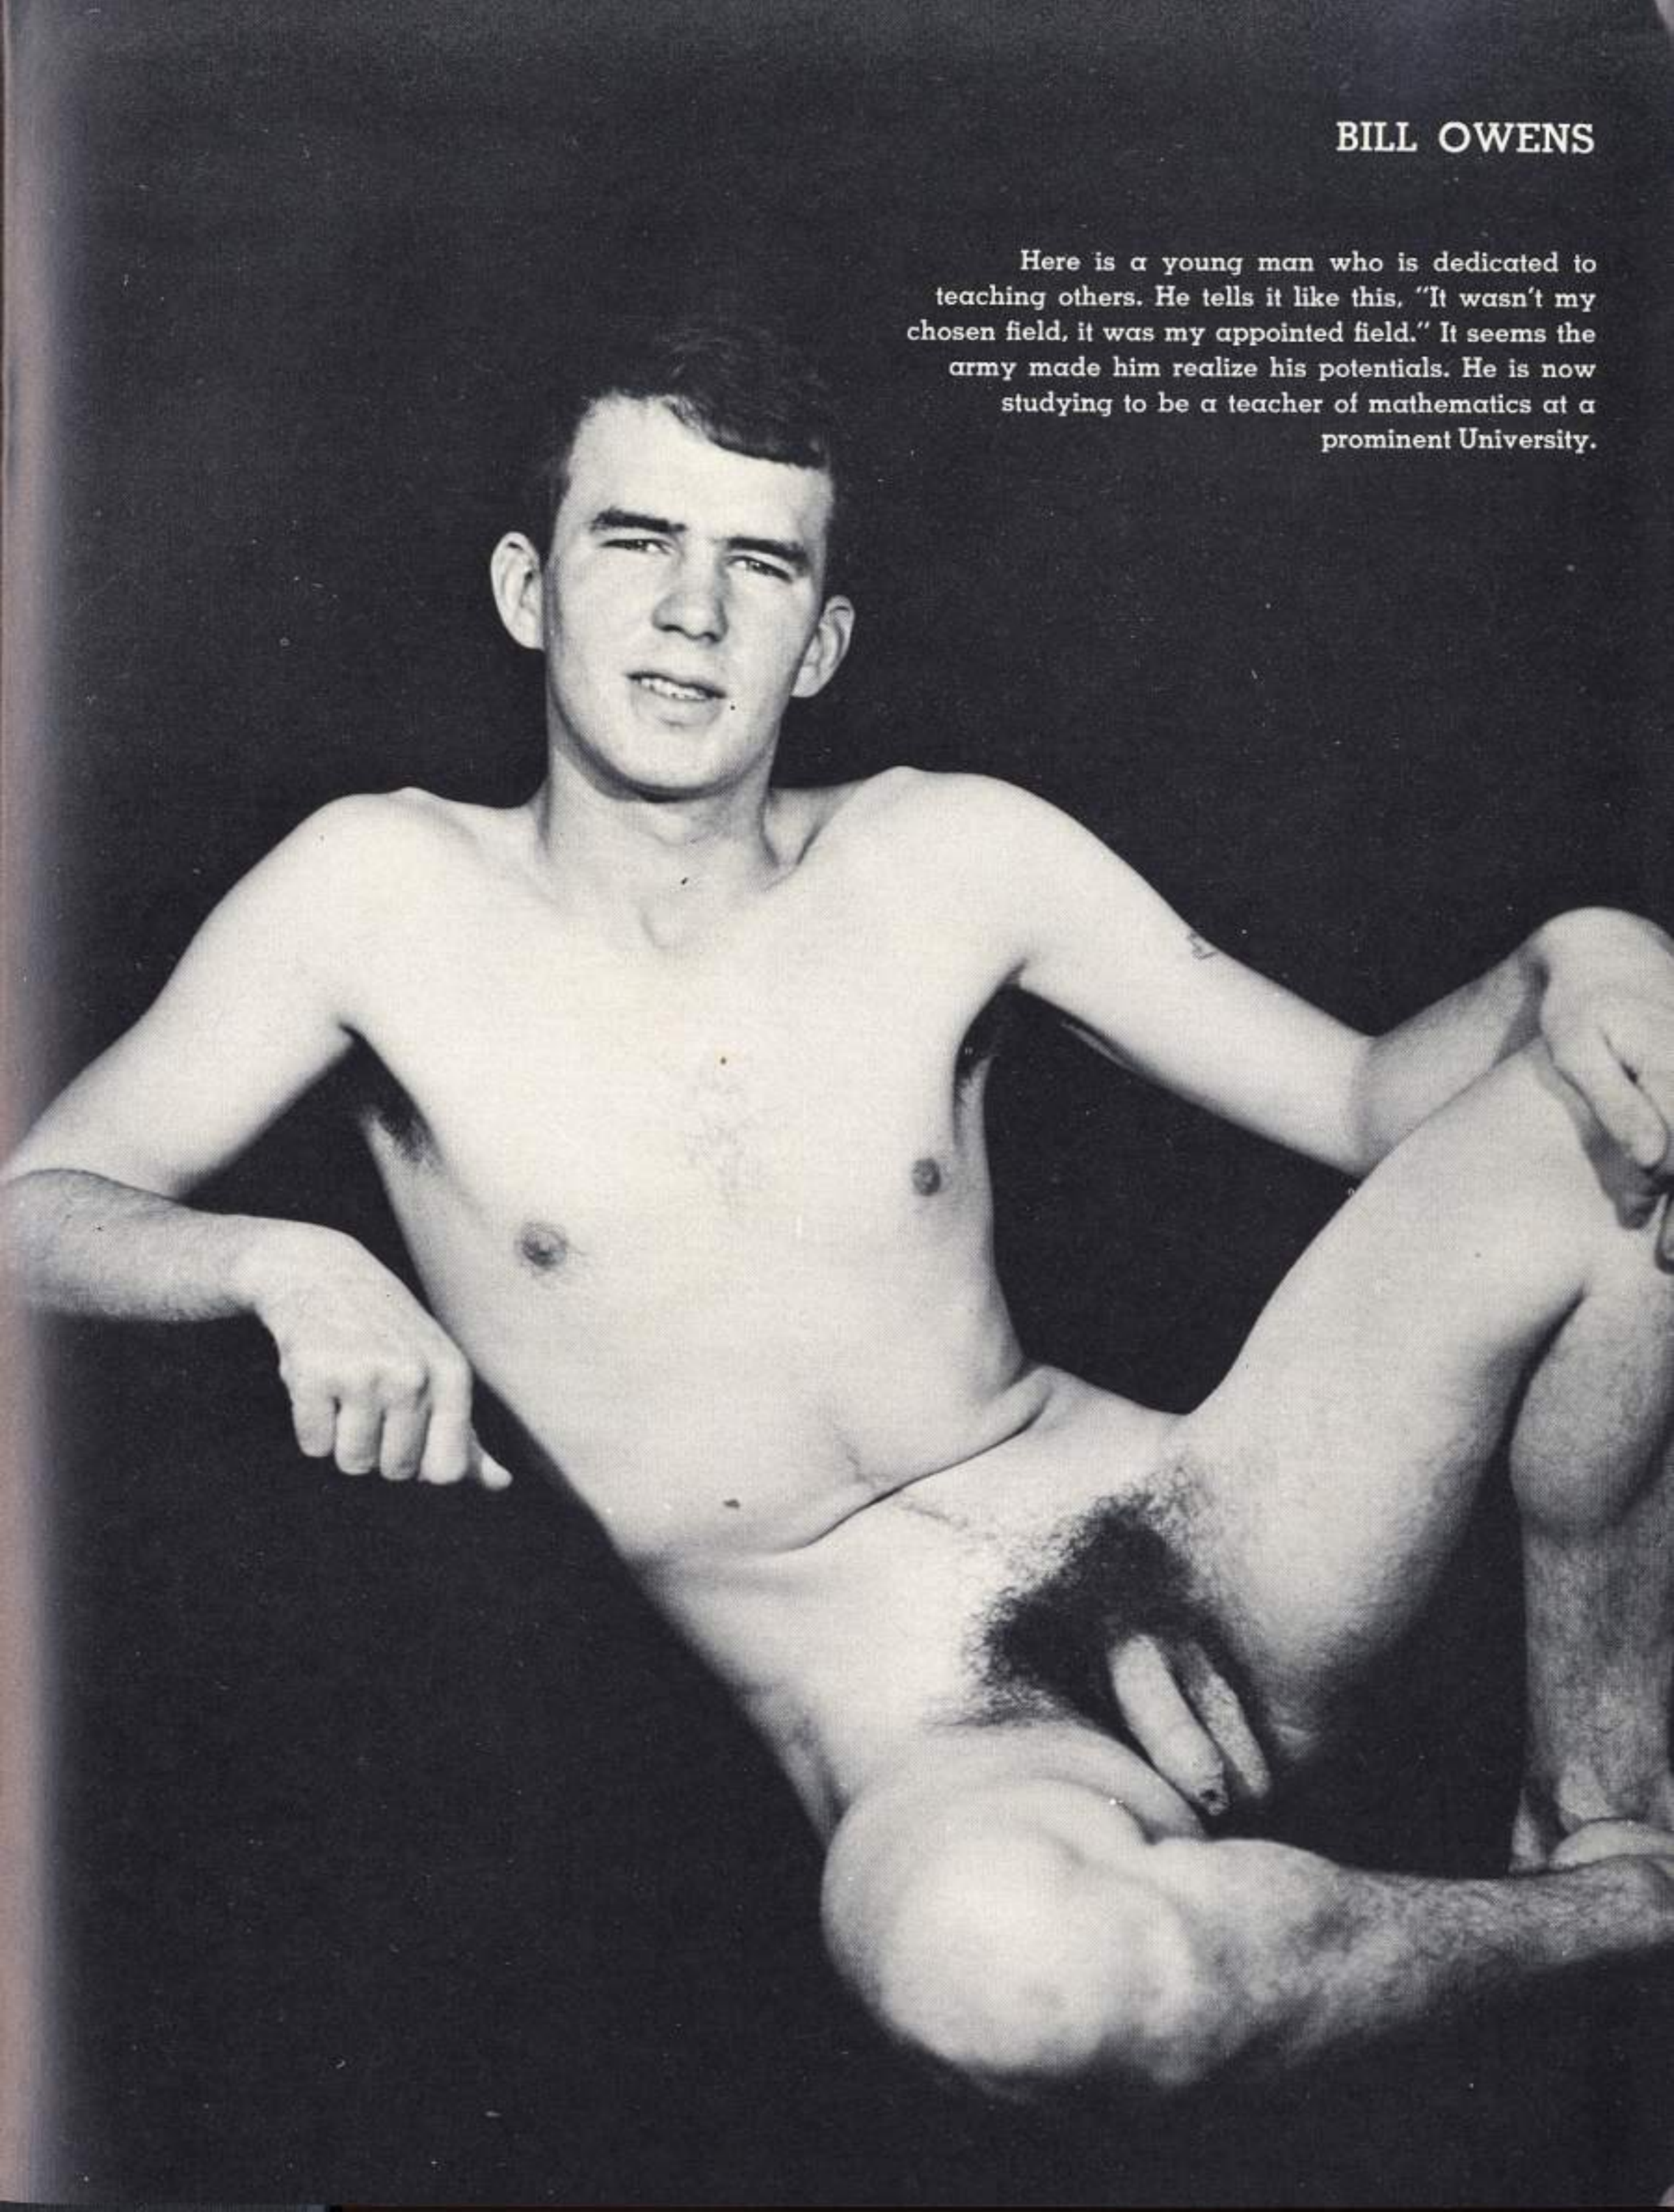
GENE BACHUS

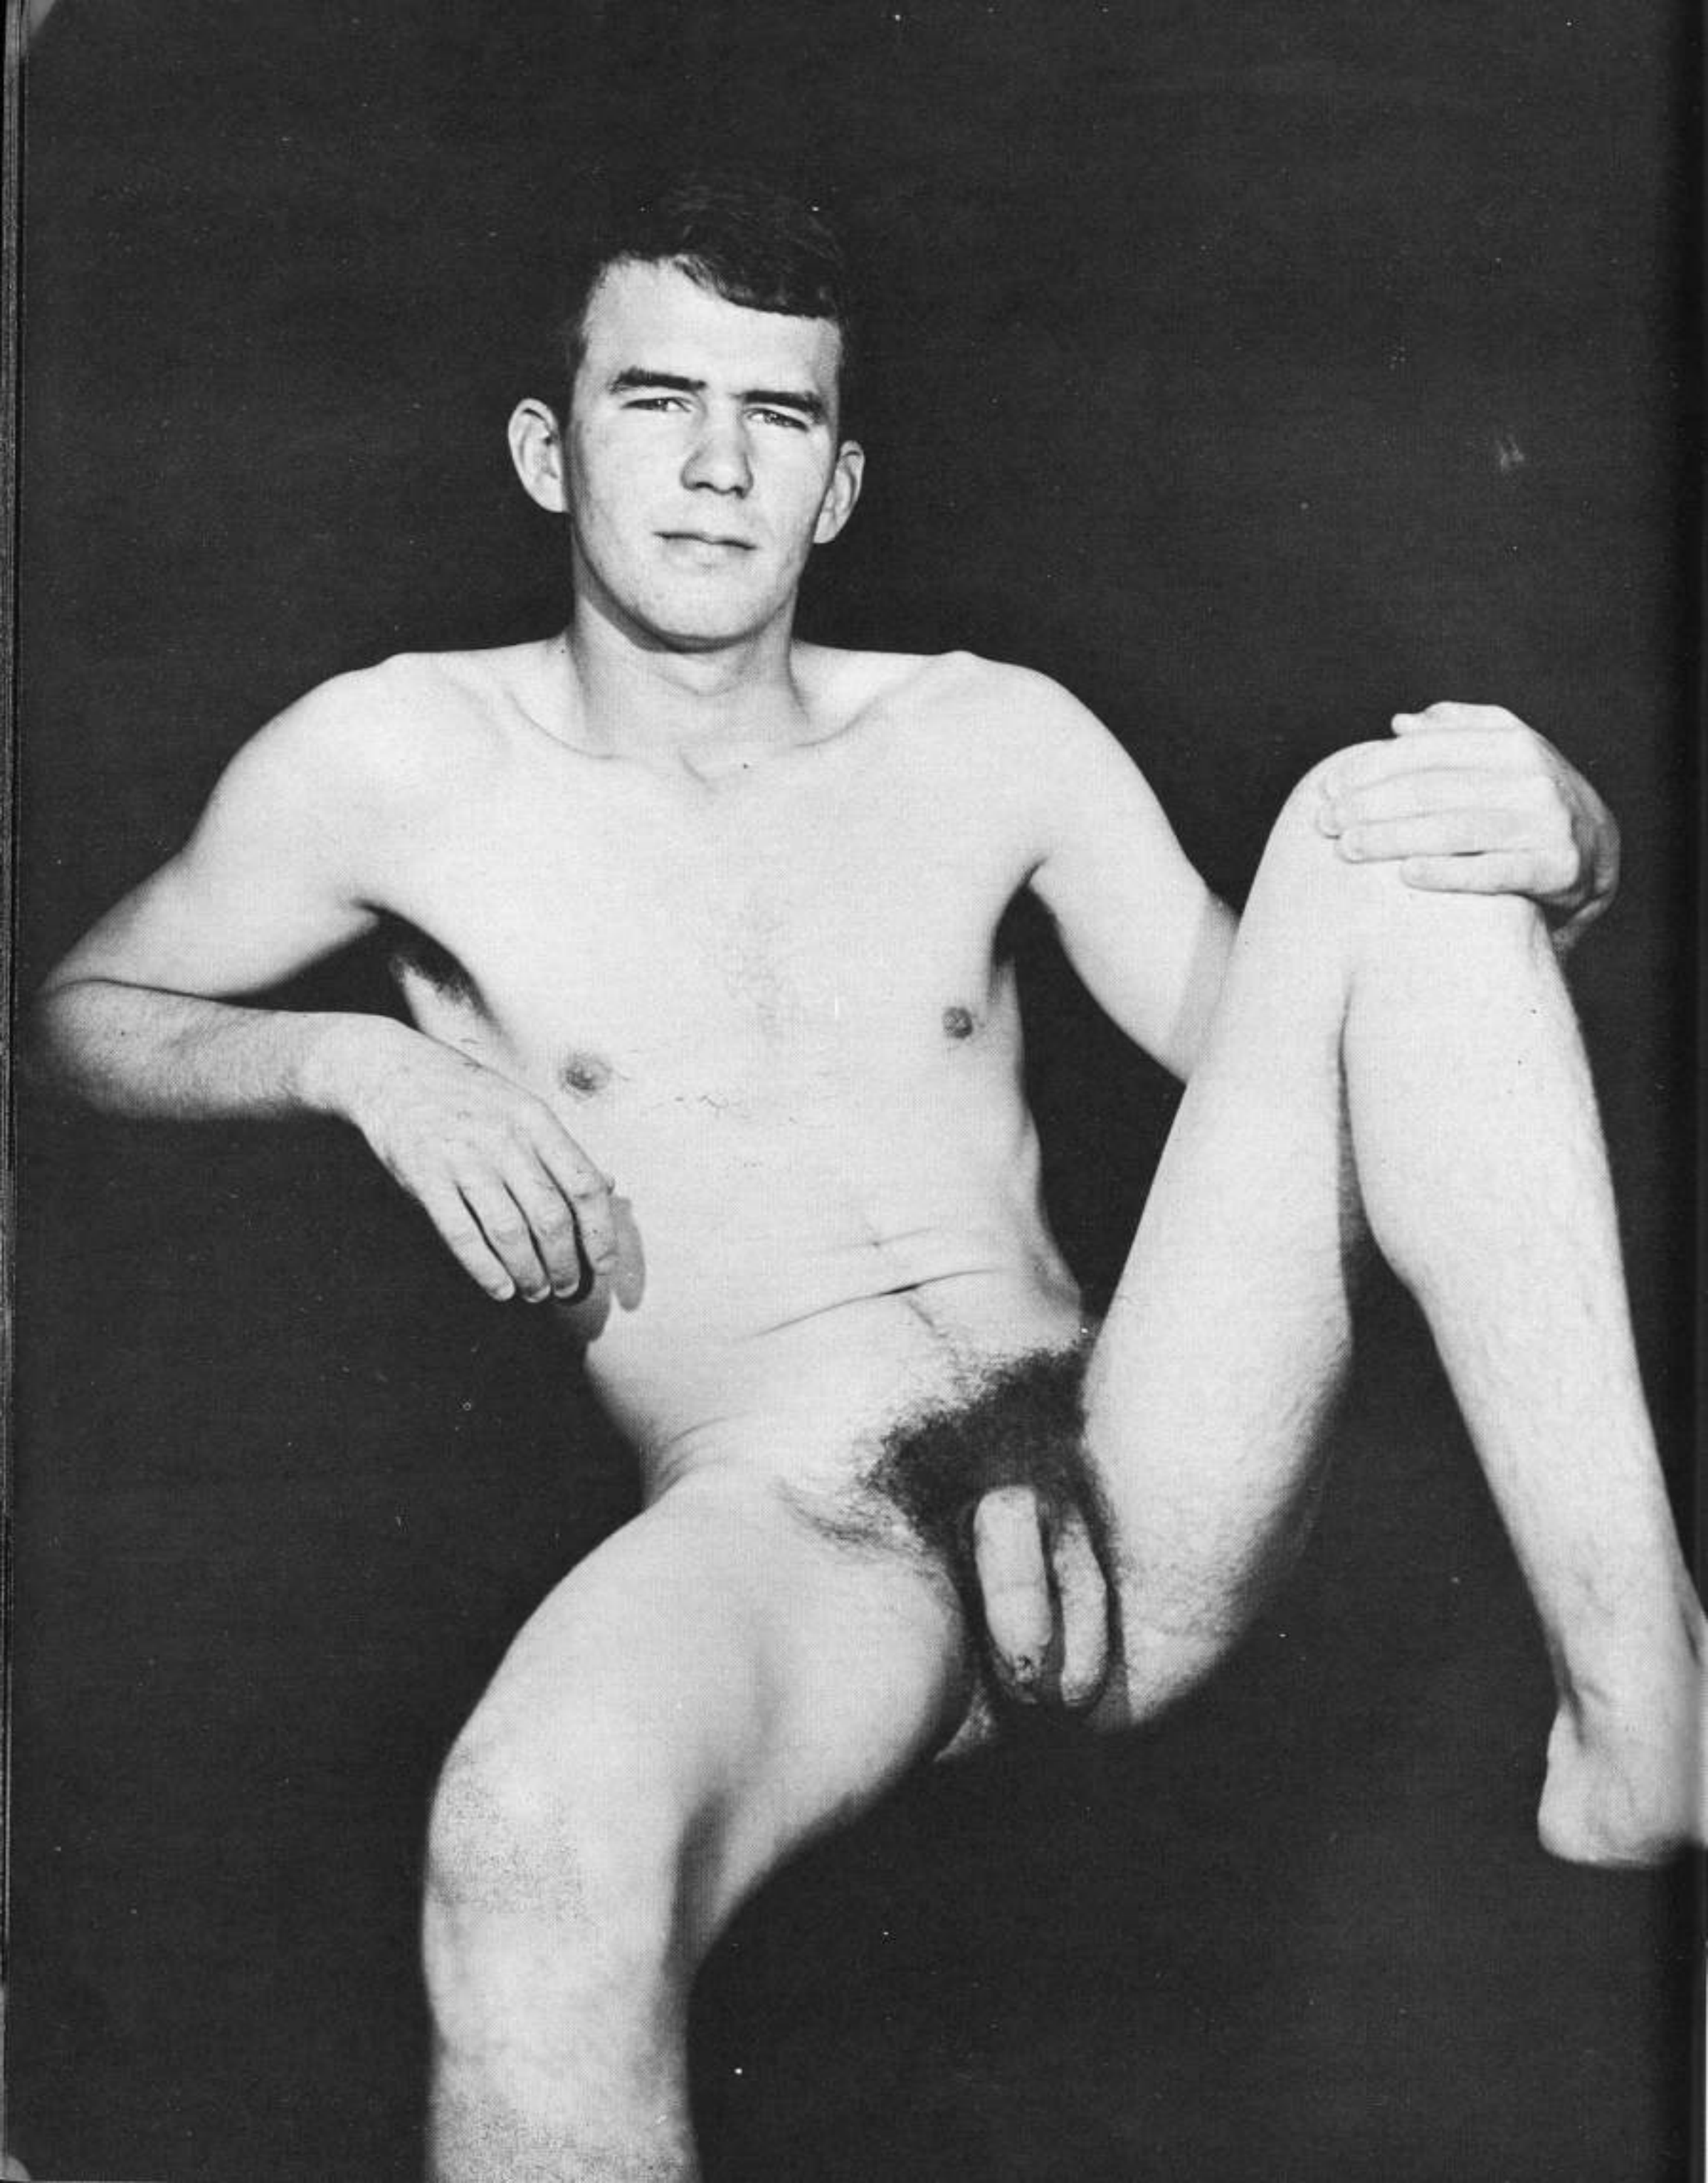
Modeling is Gene's hobby and carpentry is his living. Gene is a carpenter's mate, and as such can take quick care of those little household needs. And as one can see from his well-formed body, Gene works out daily. With a body like his, it's no wonder that Gene took up modeling.



BILL OWENS

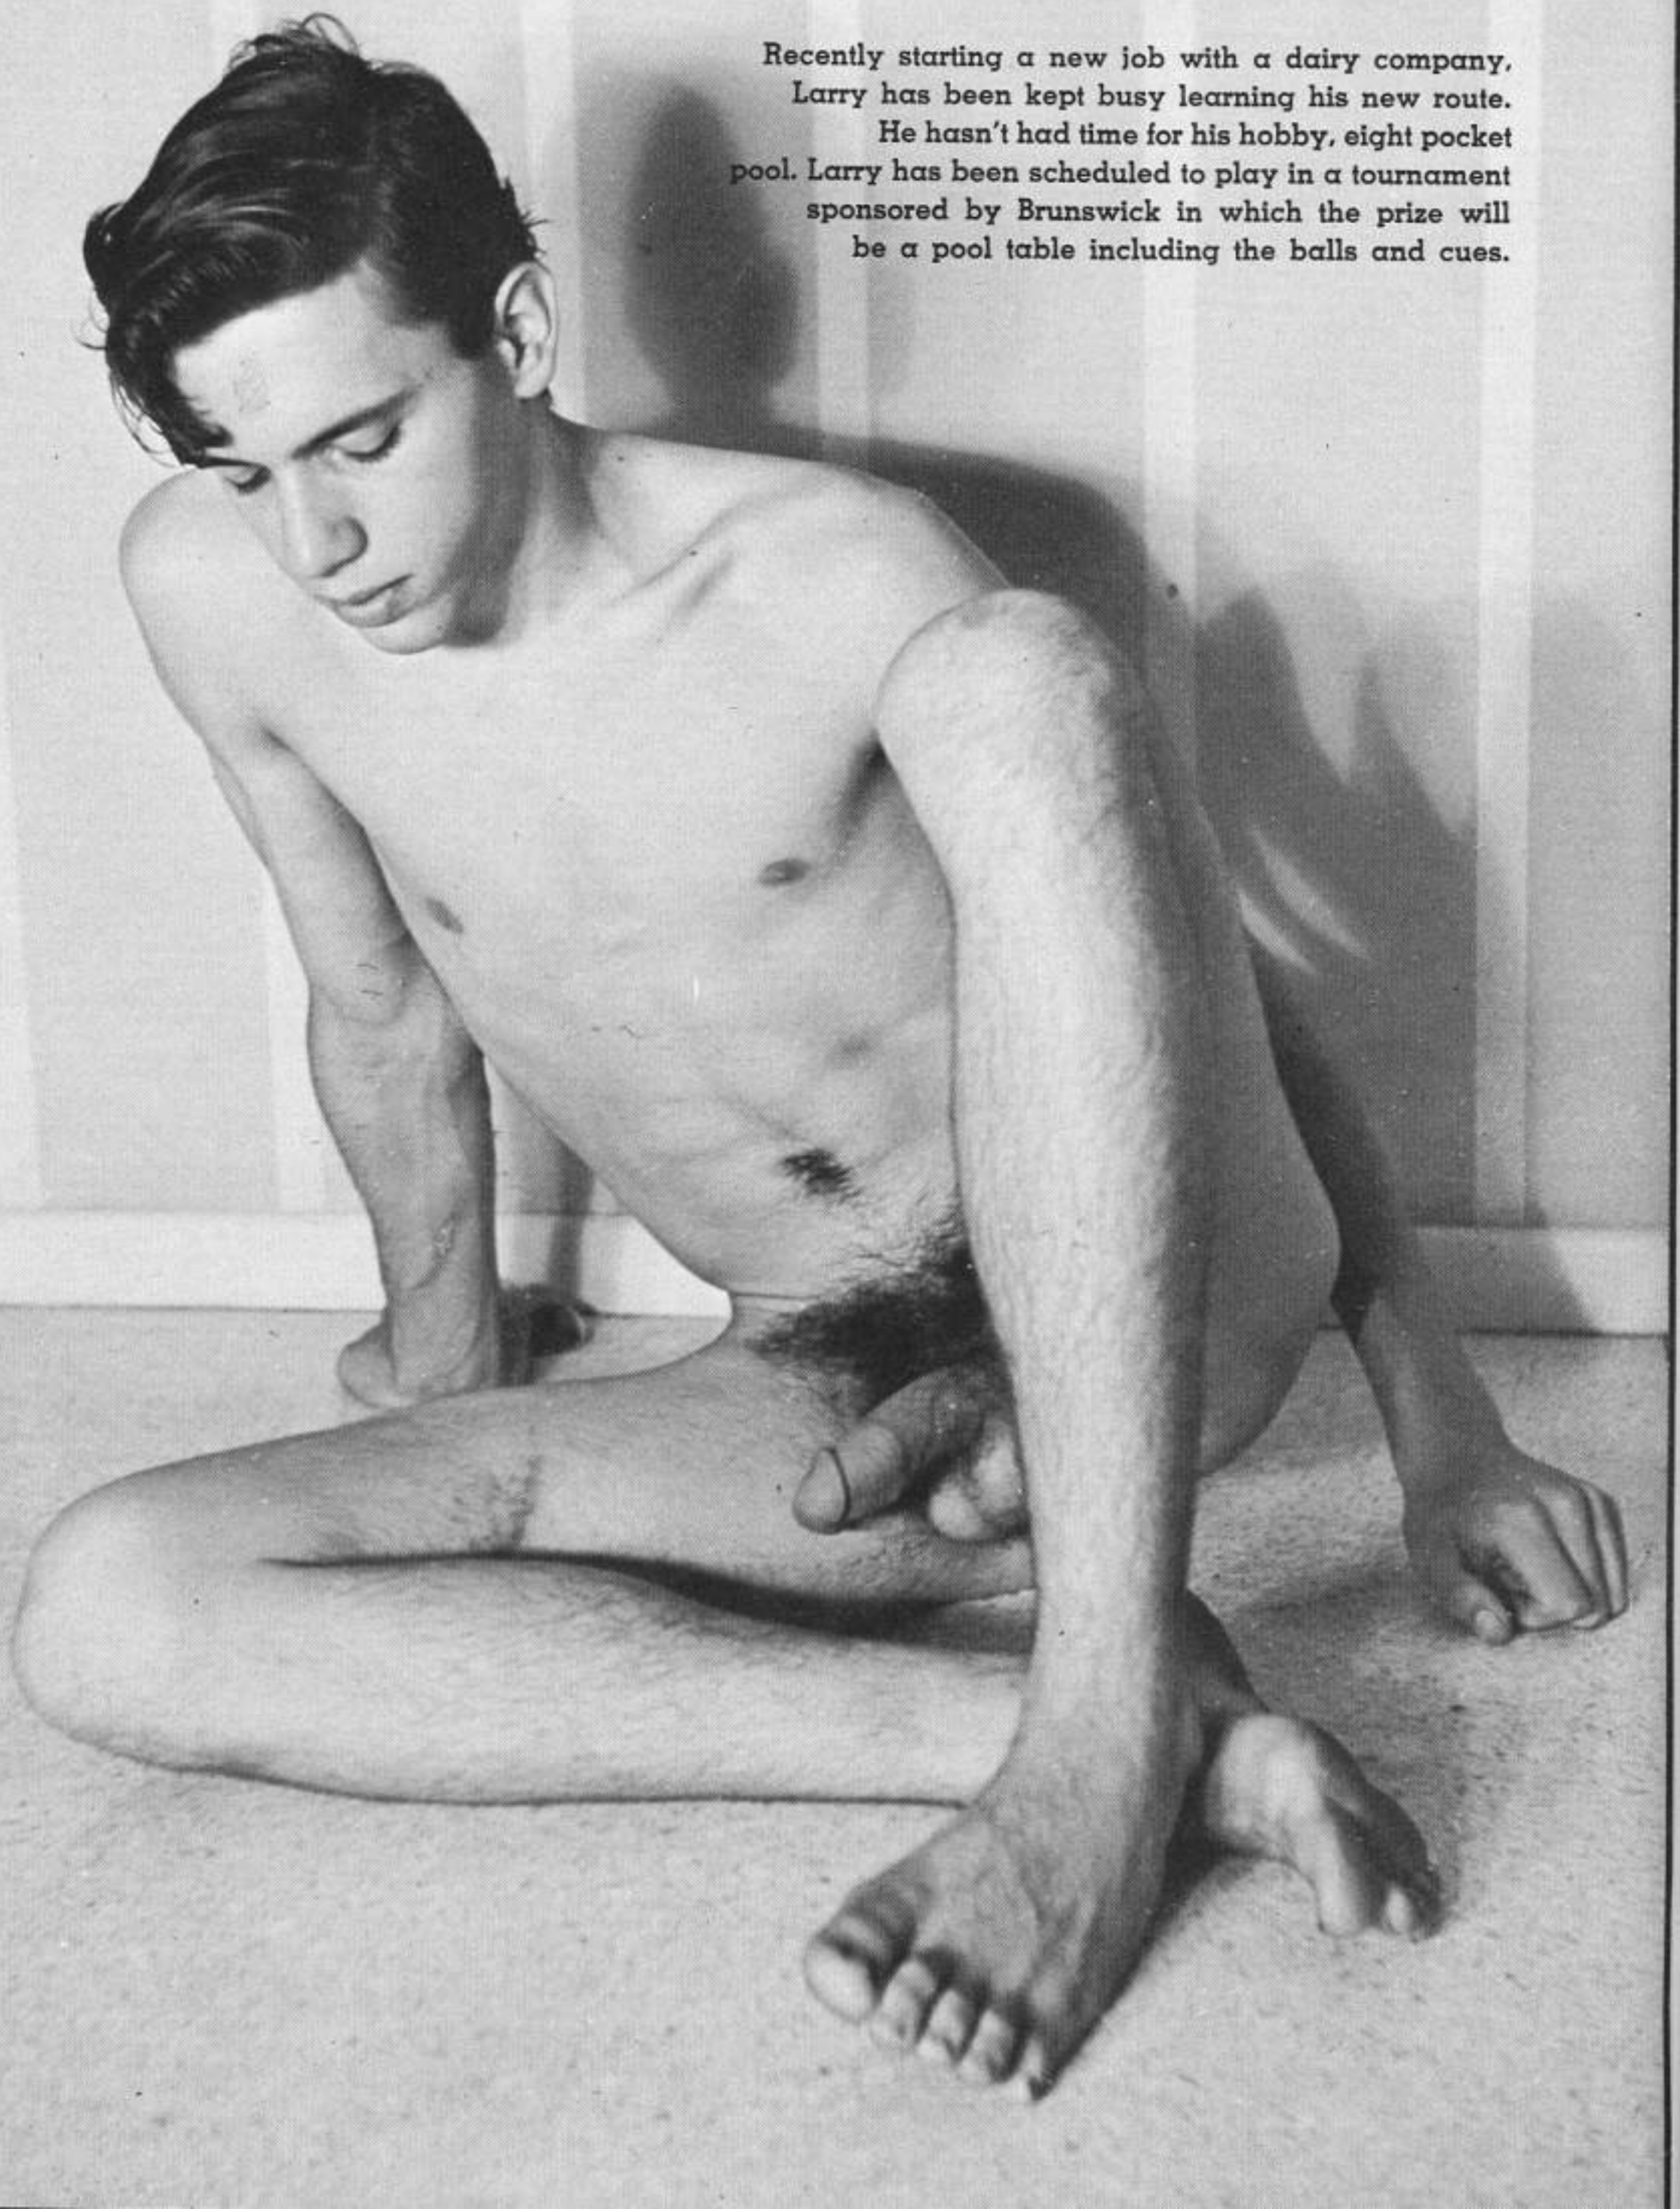
Here is a young man who is dedicated to teaching others. He tells it like this, "It wasn't my chosen field, it was my appointed field." It seems the army made him realize his potentials. He is now studying to be a teacher of mathematics at a prominent University.

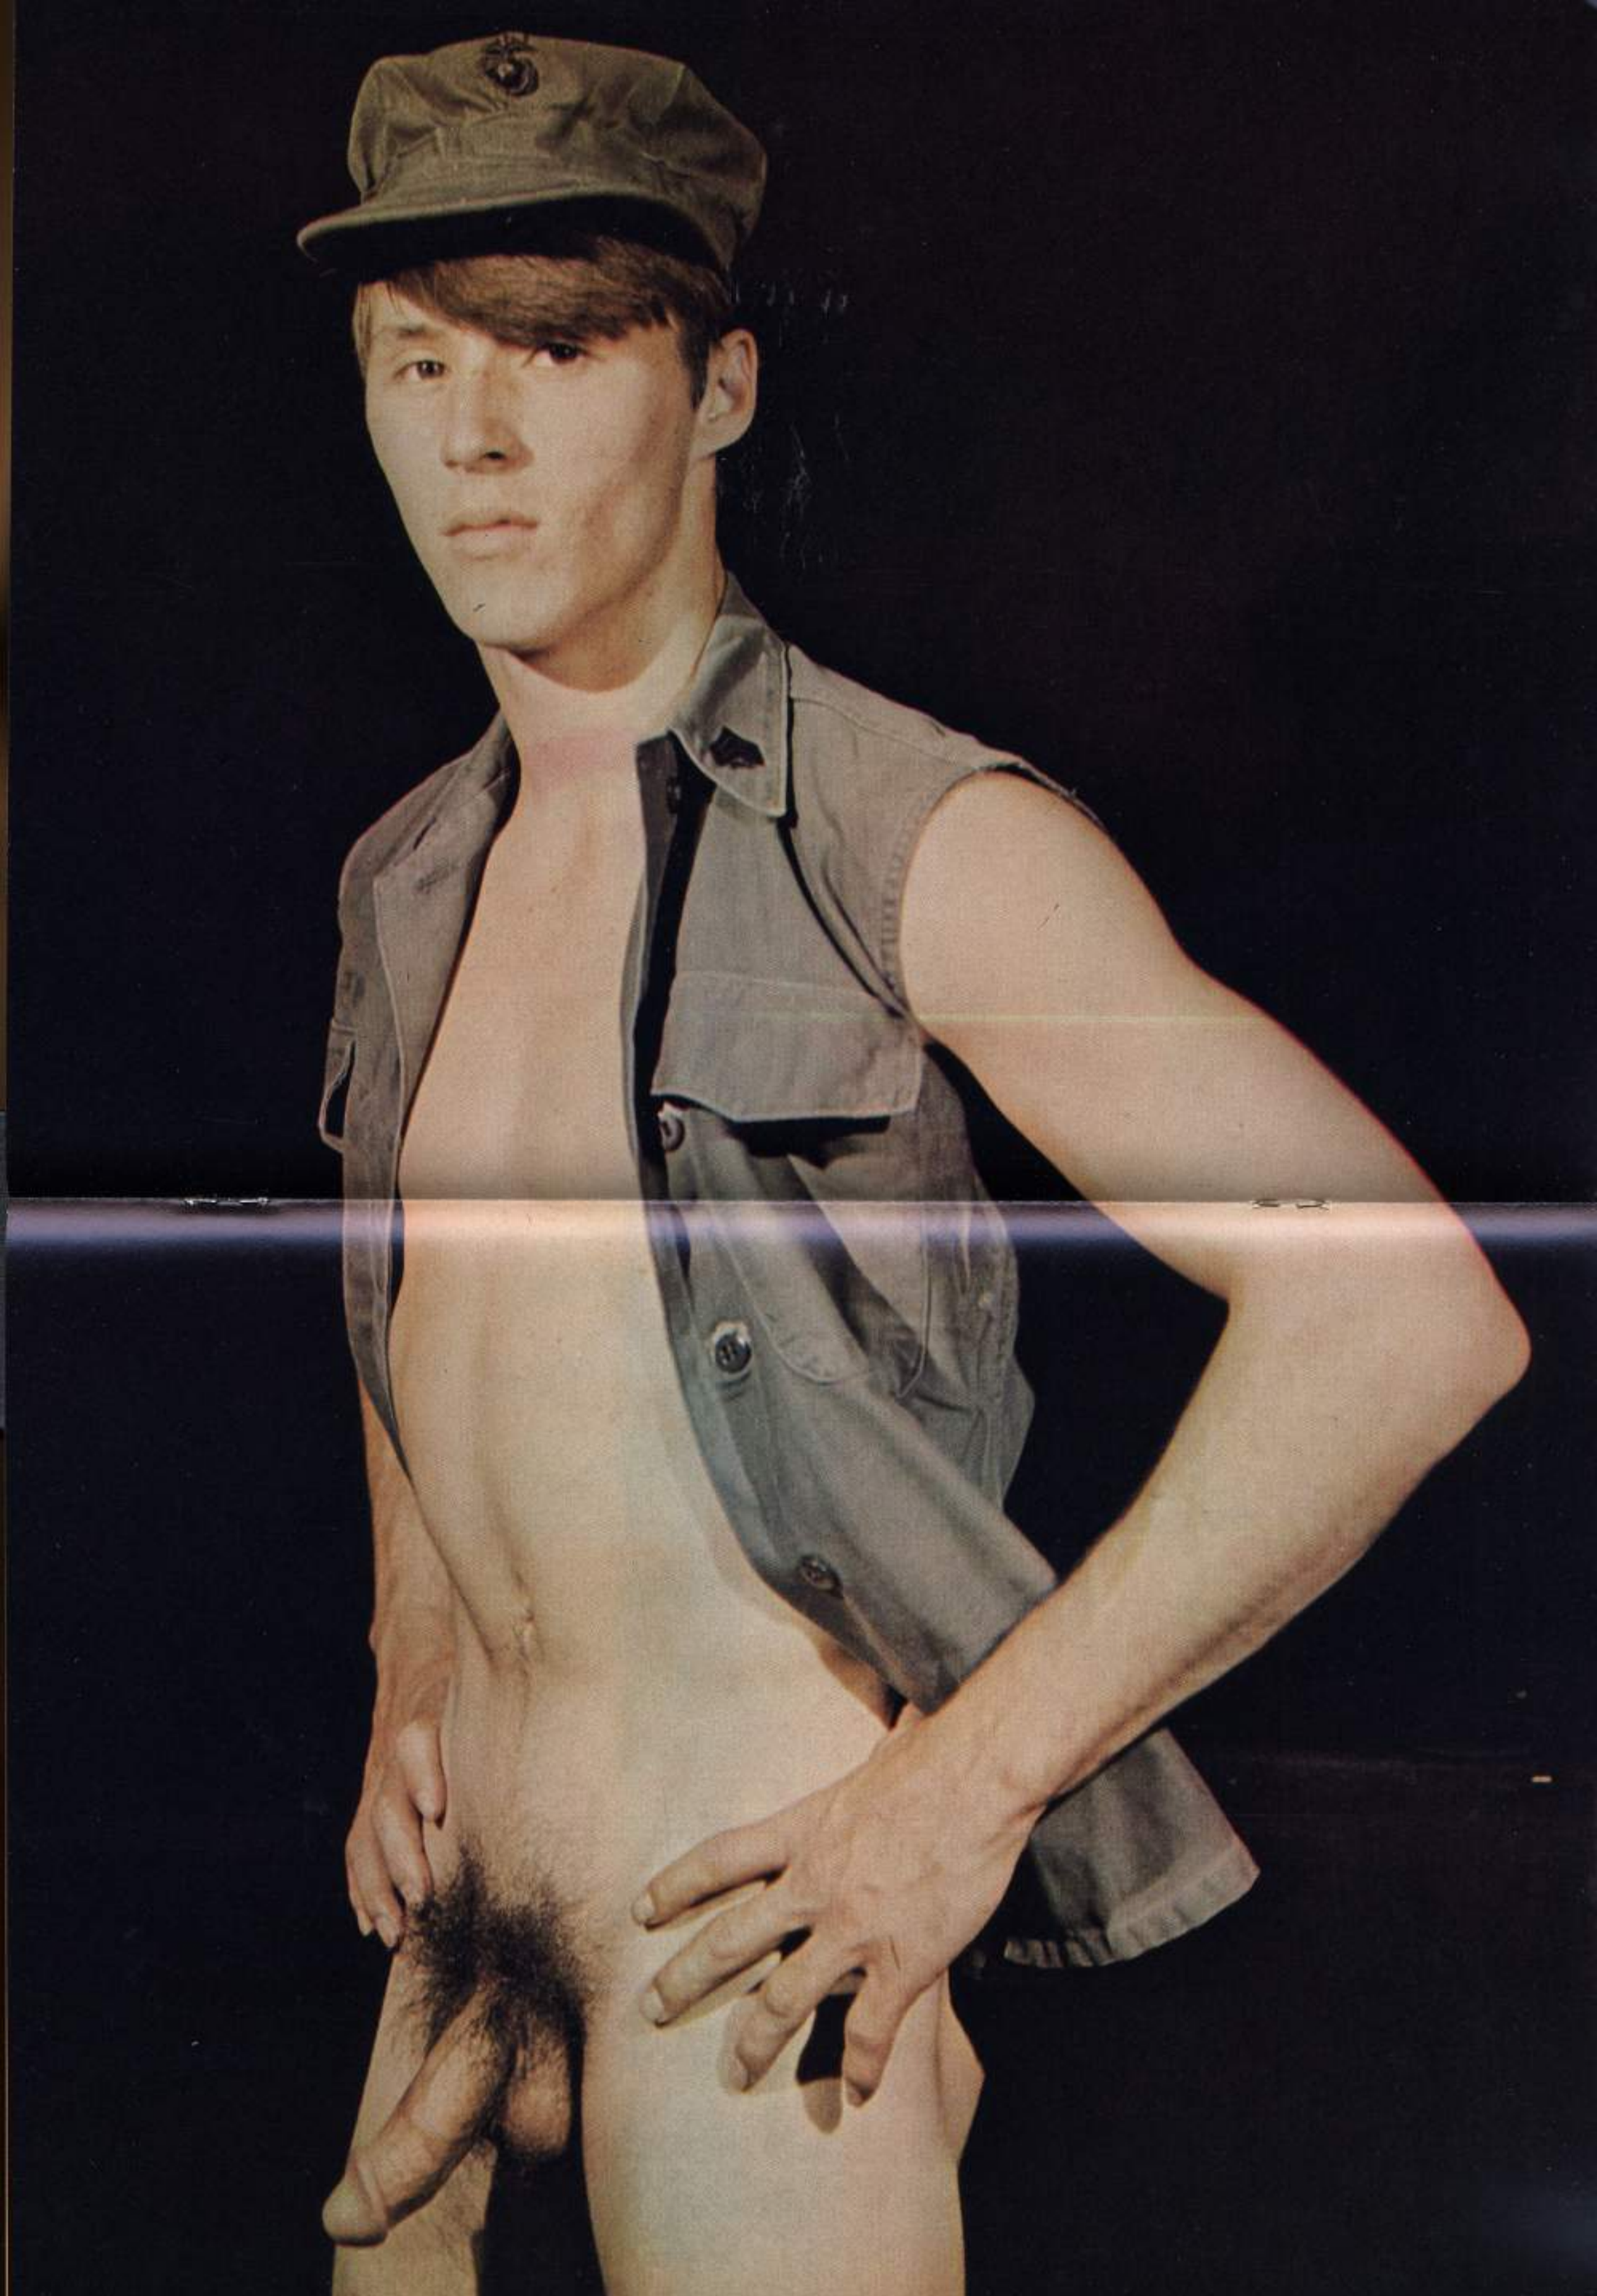


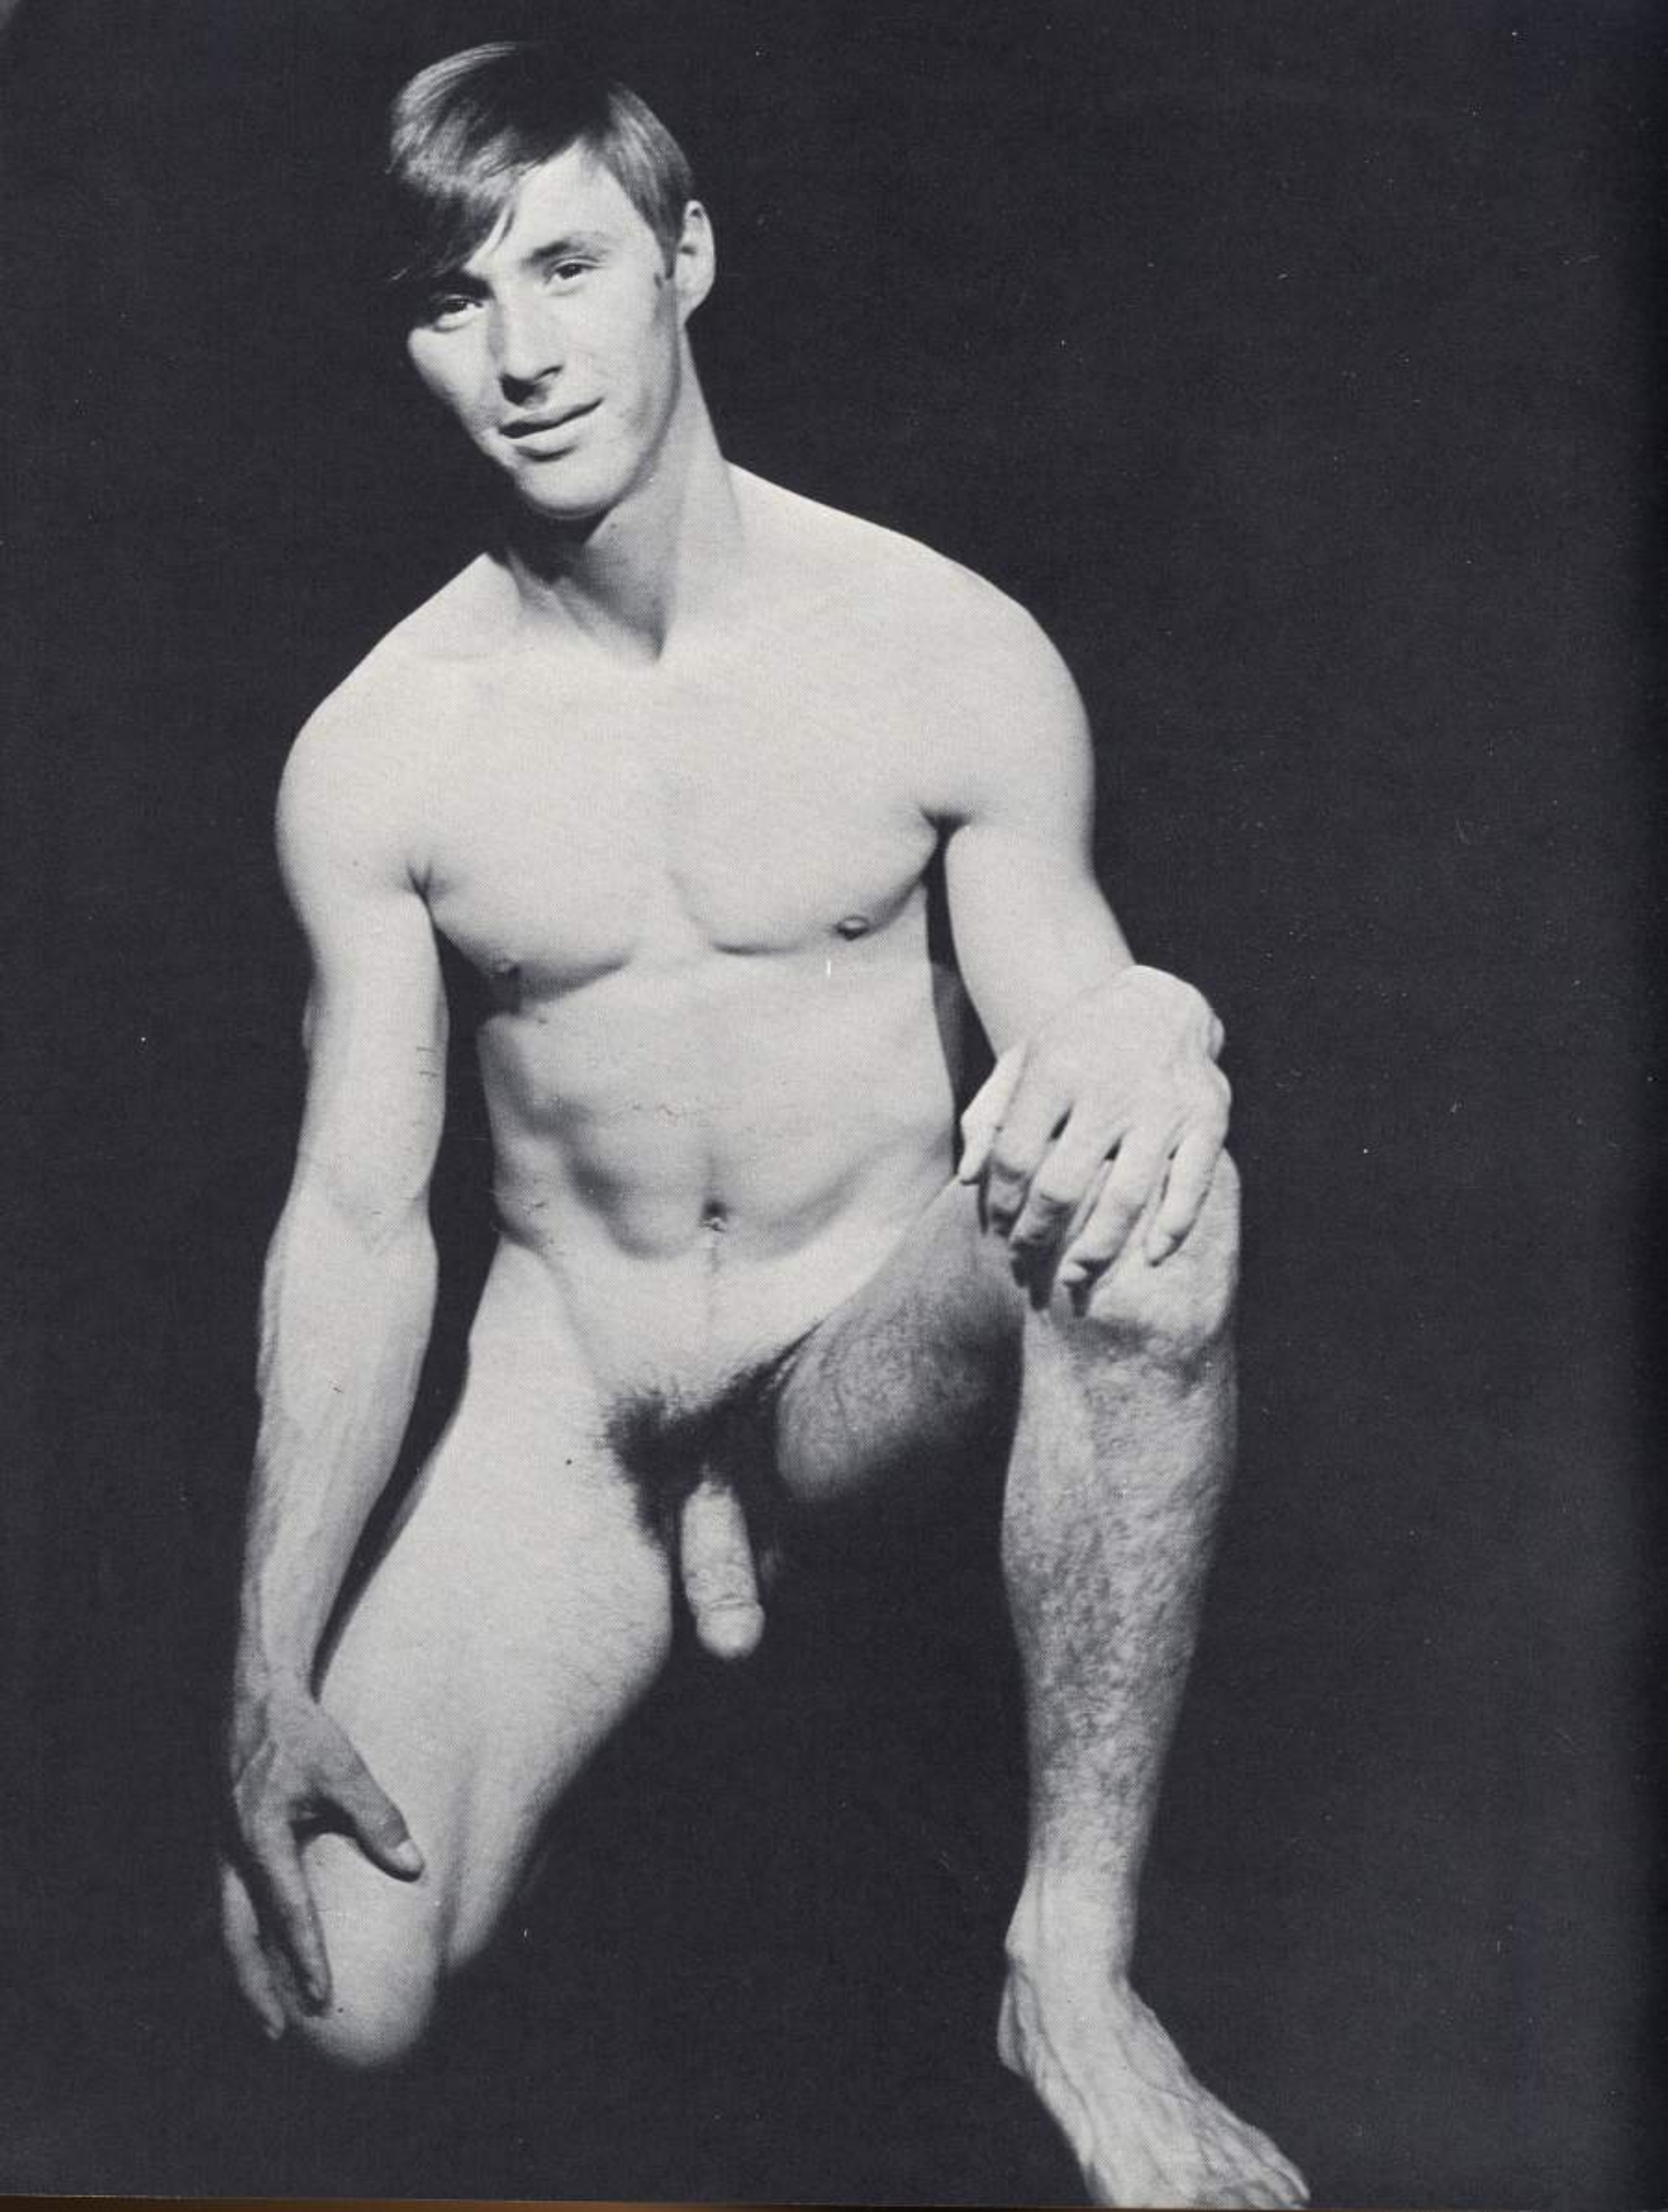


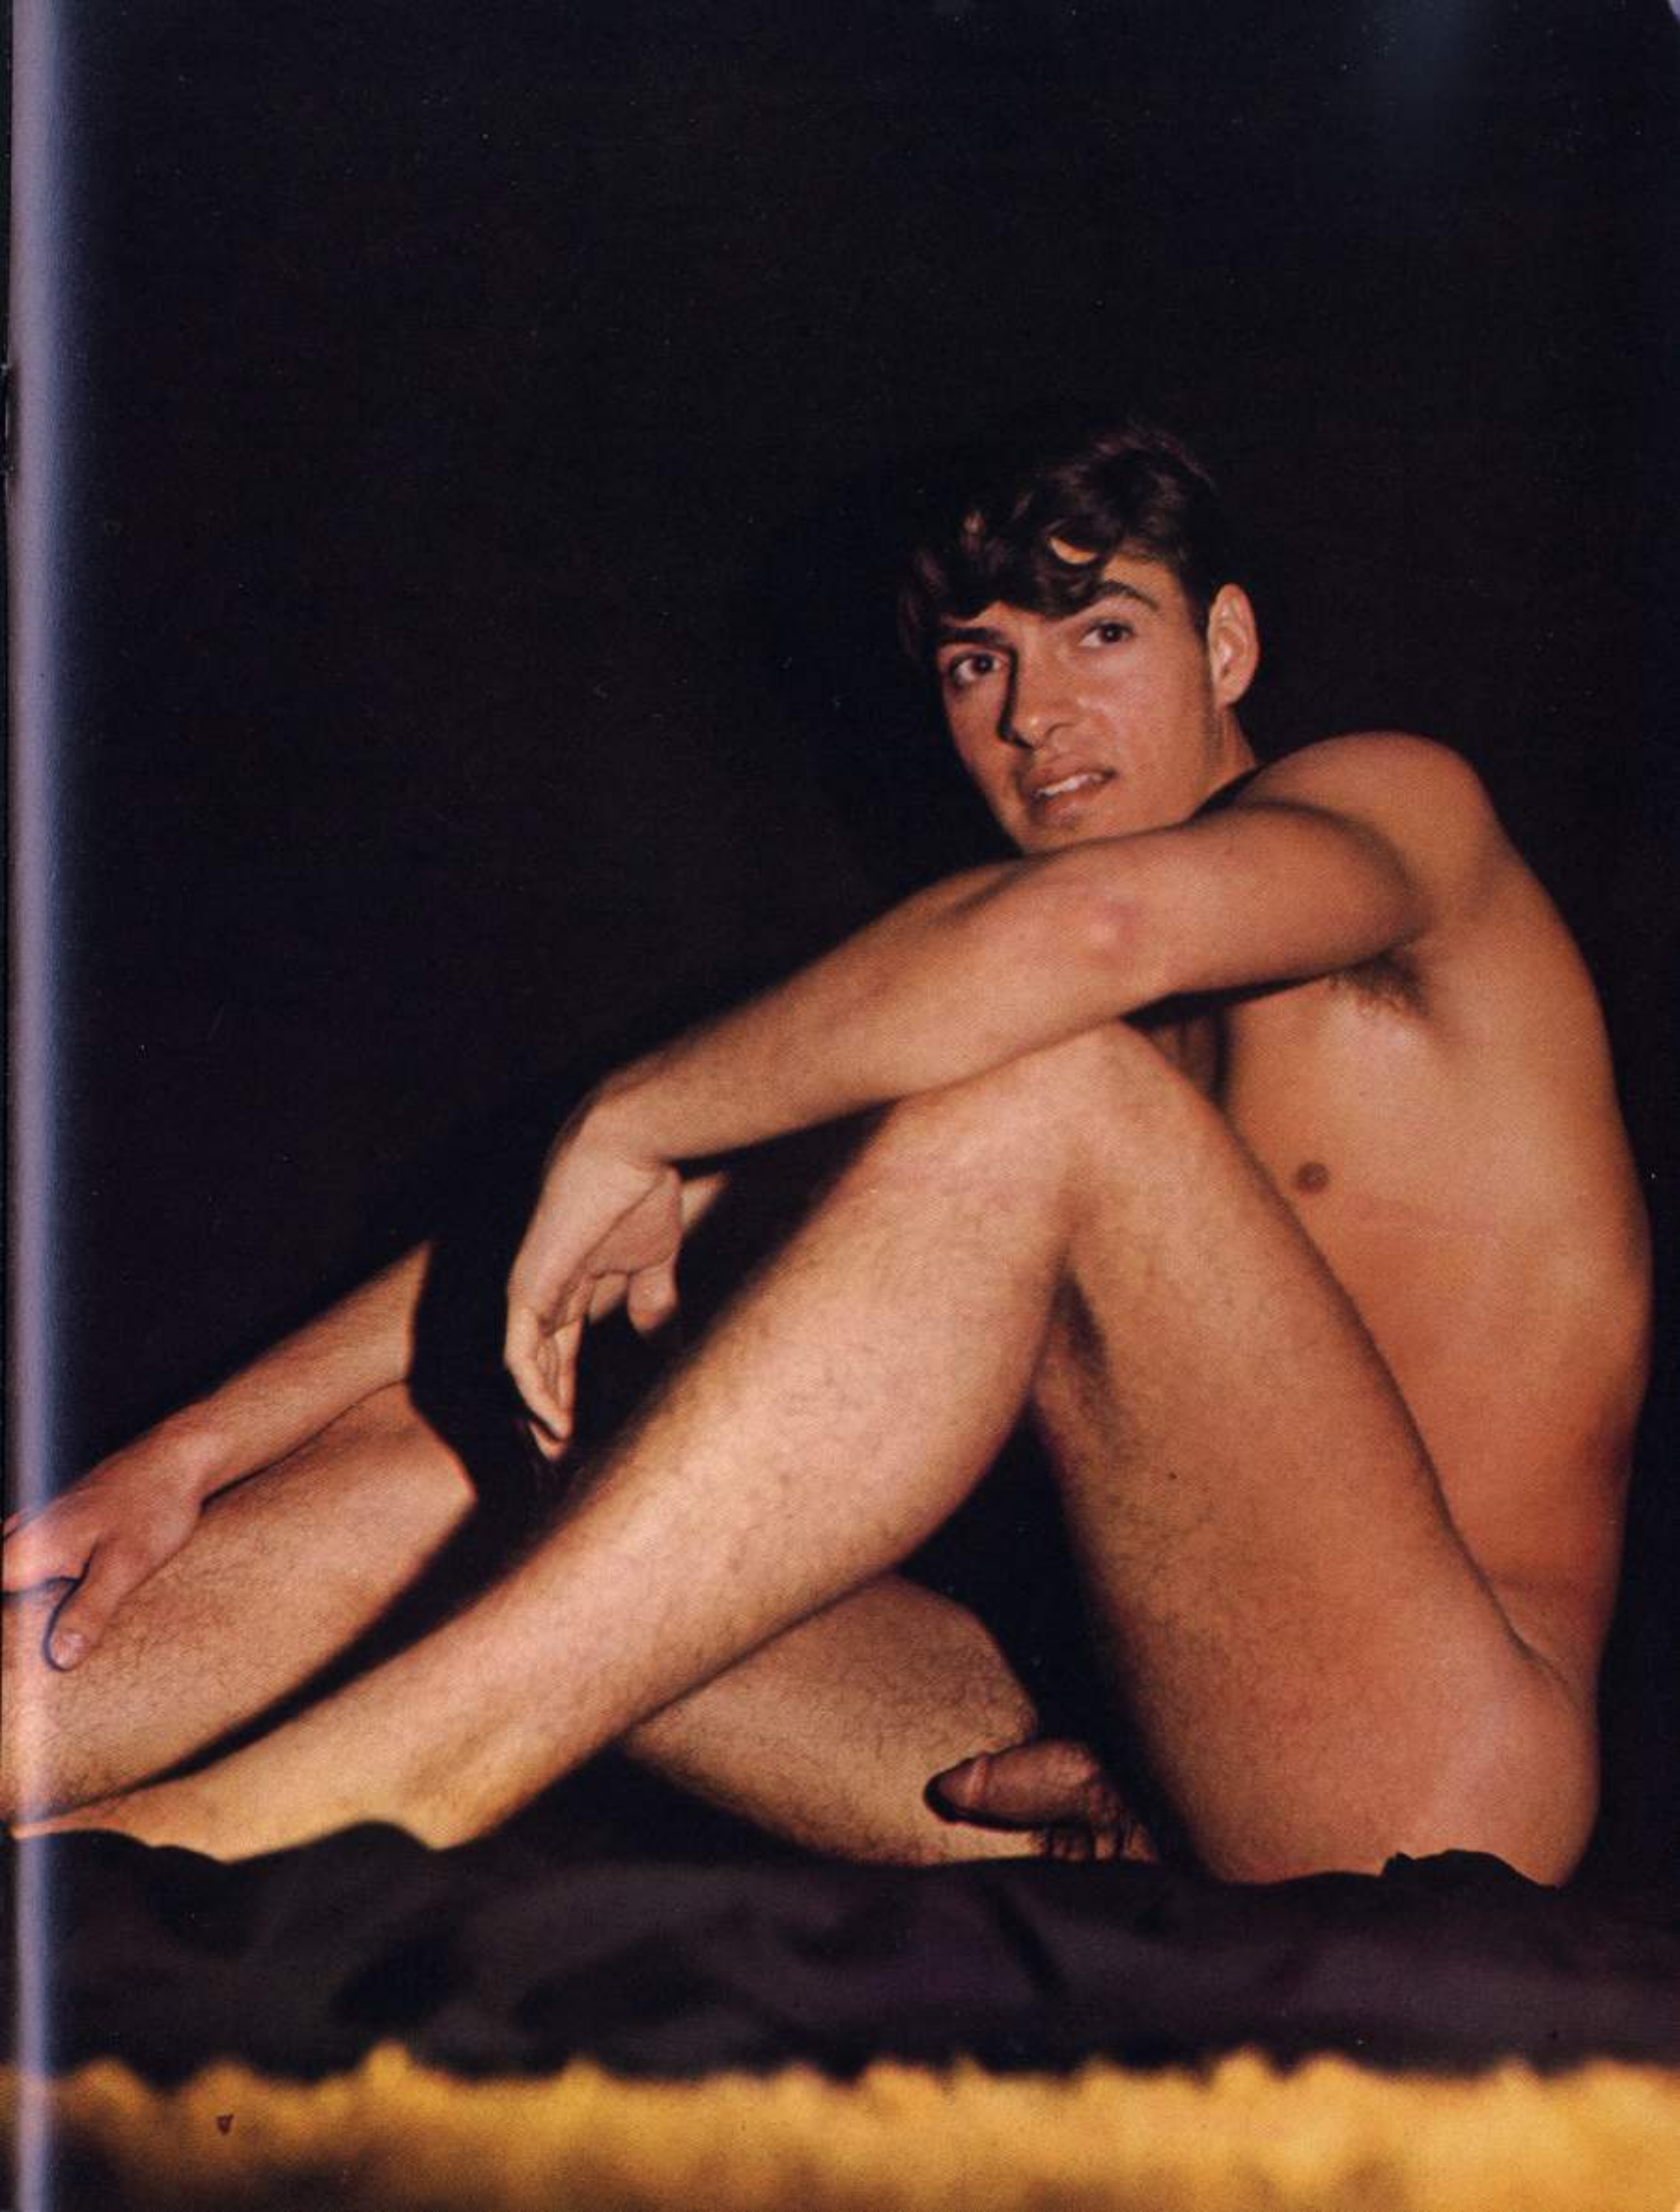
LARRY BARNES

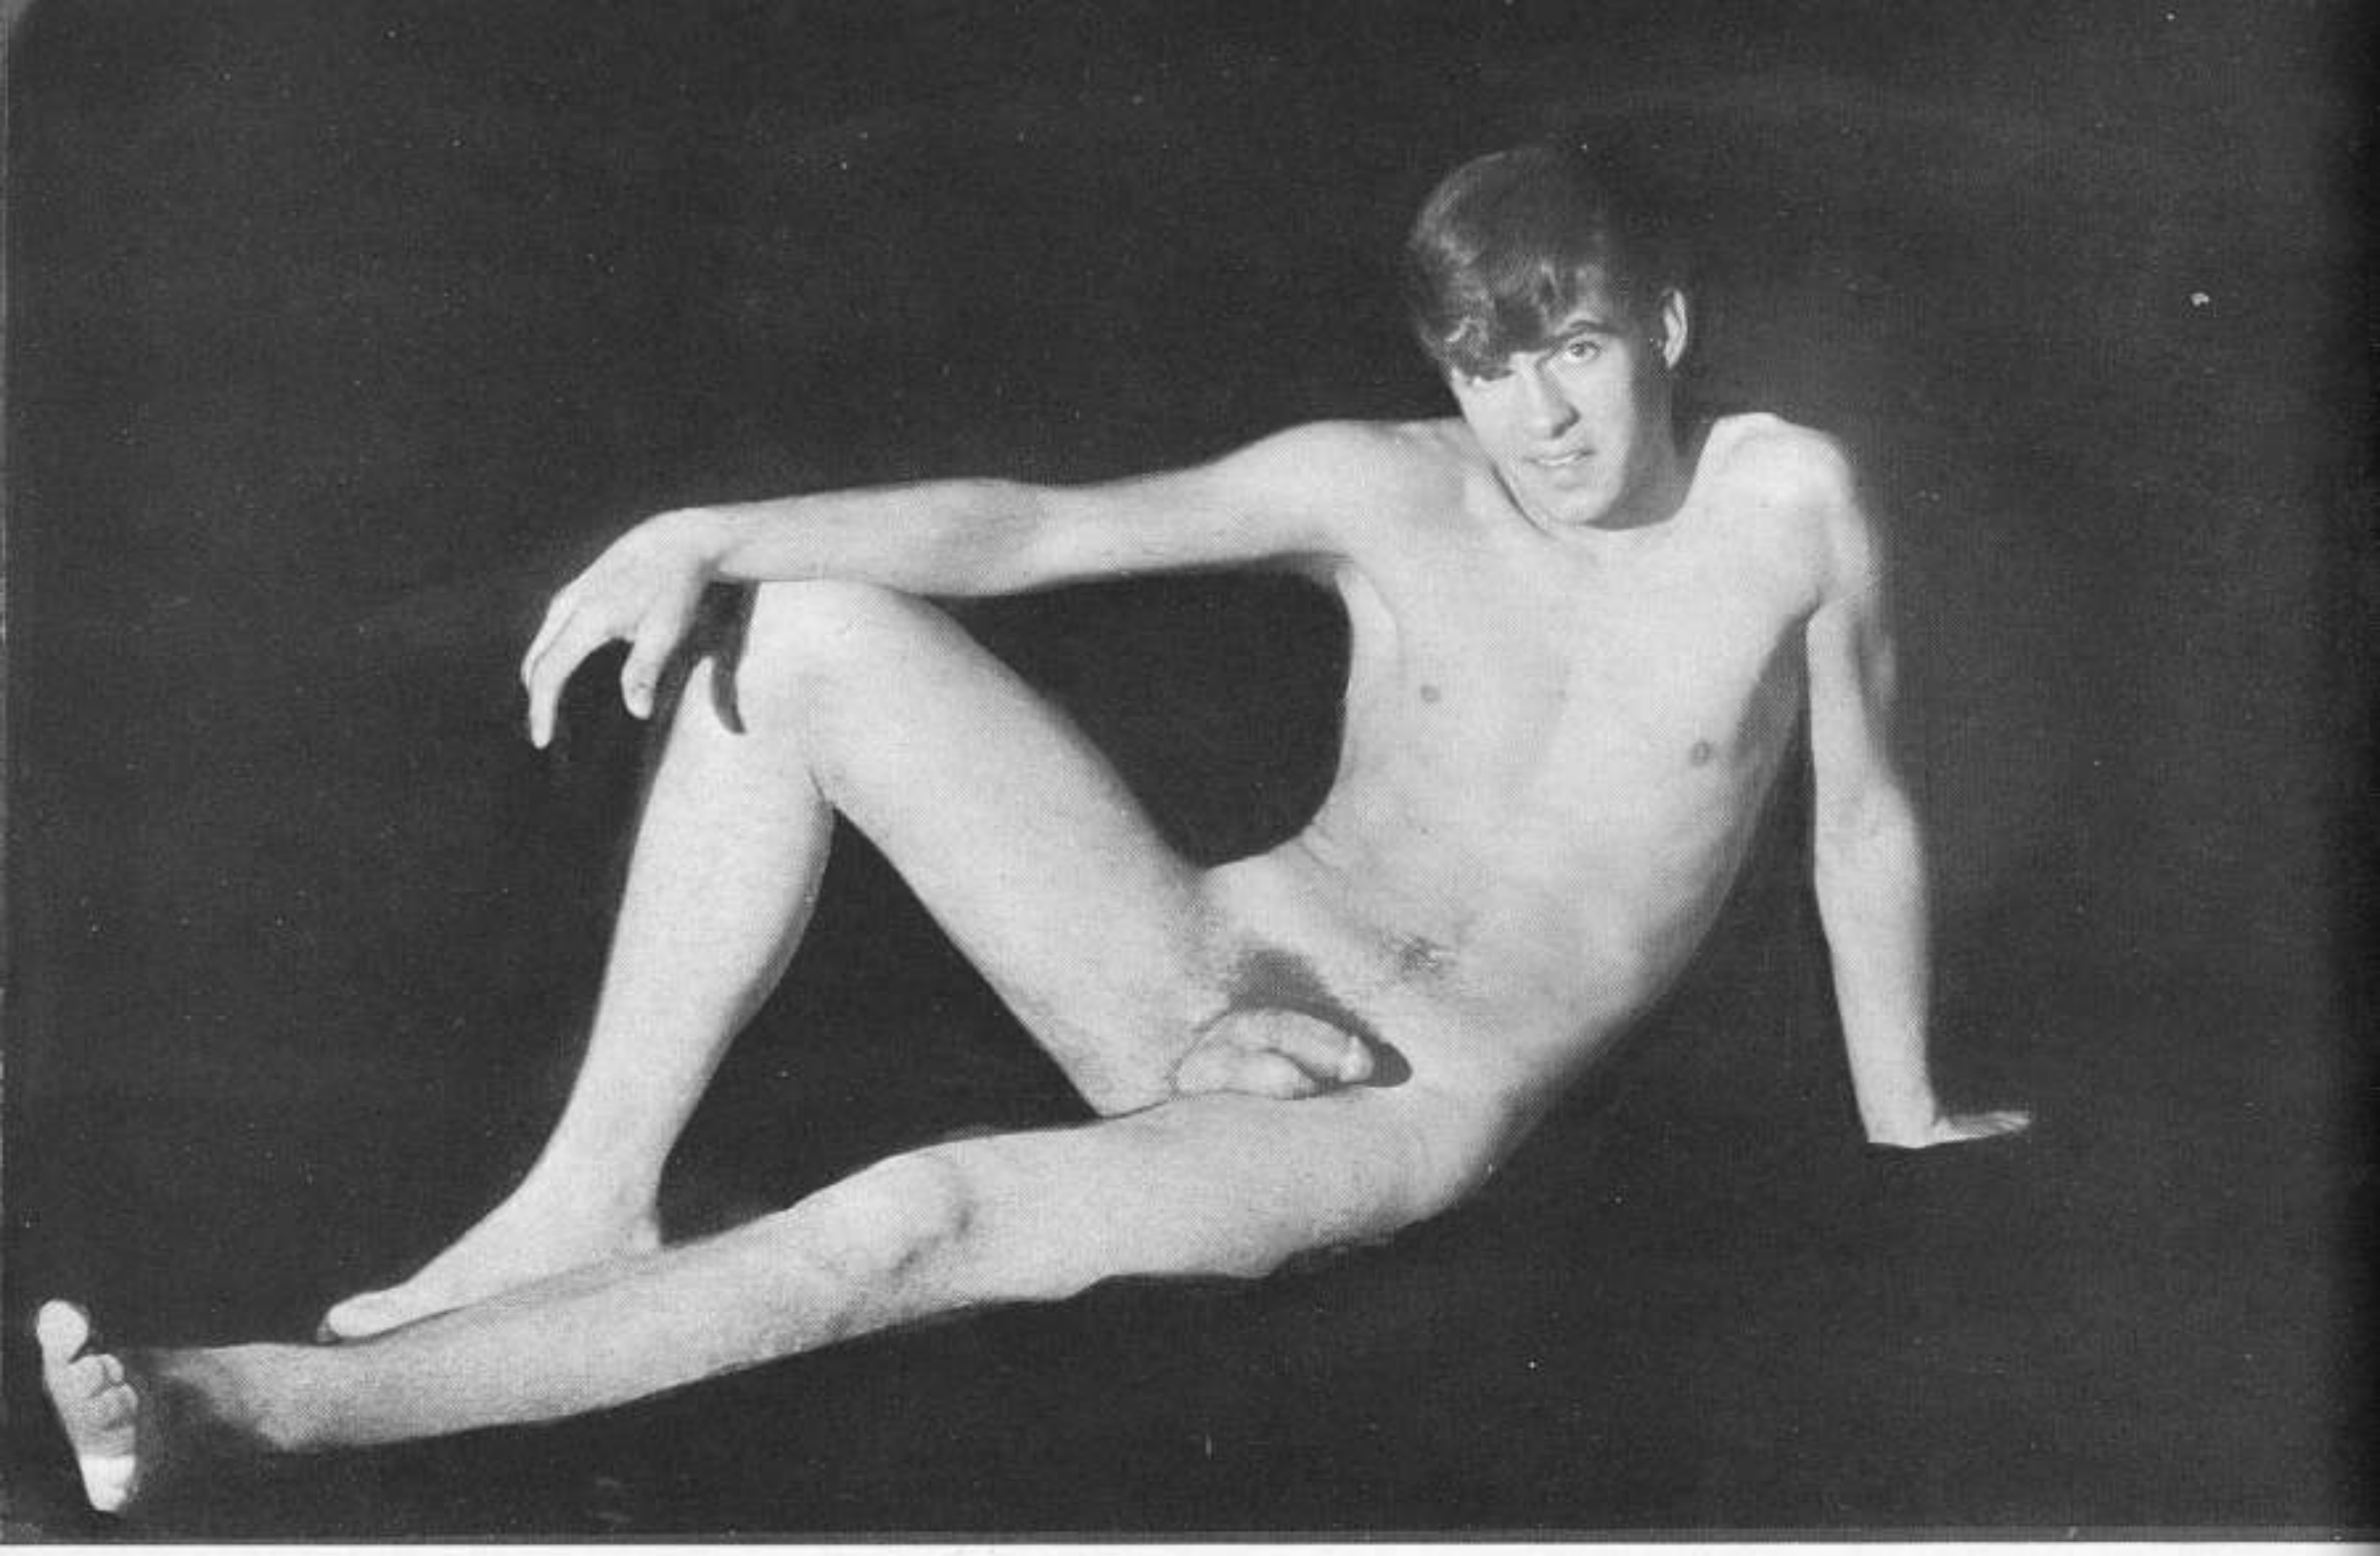
Recently starting a new job with a dairy company, Larry has been kept busy learning his new route. He hasn't had time for his hobby, eight pocket pool. Larry has been scheduled to play in a tournament sponsored by Brunswick in which the prize will be a pool table including the balls and cues.

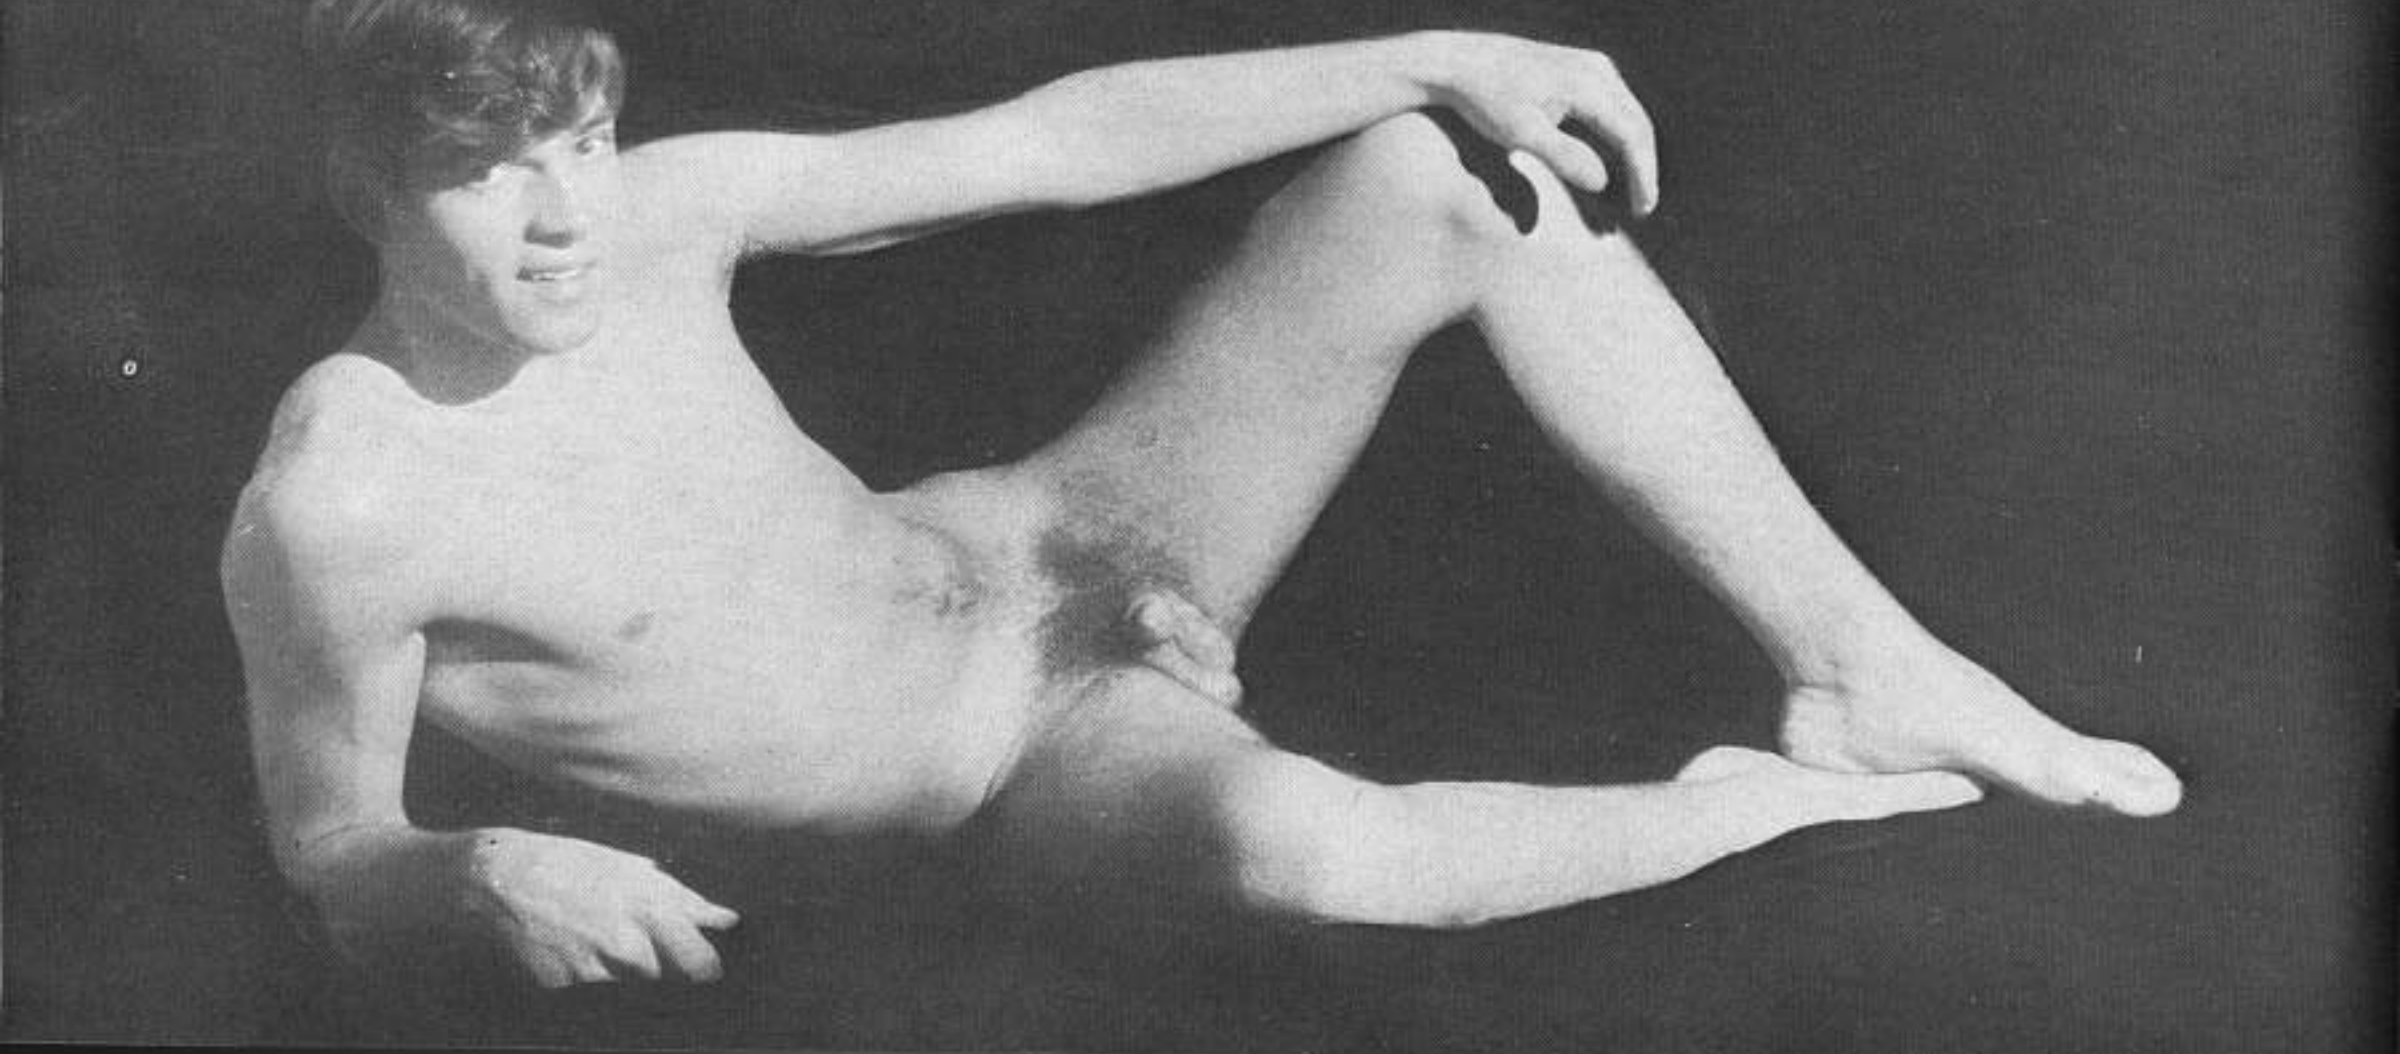


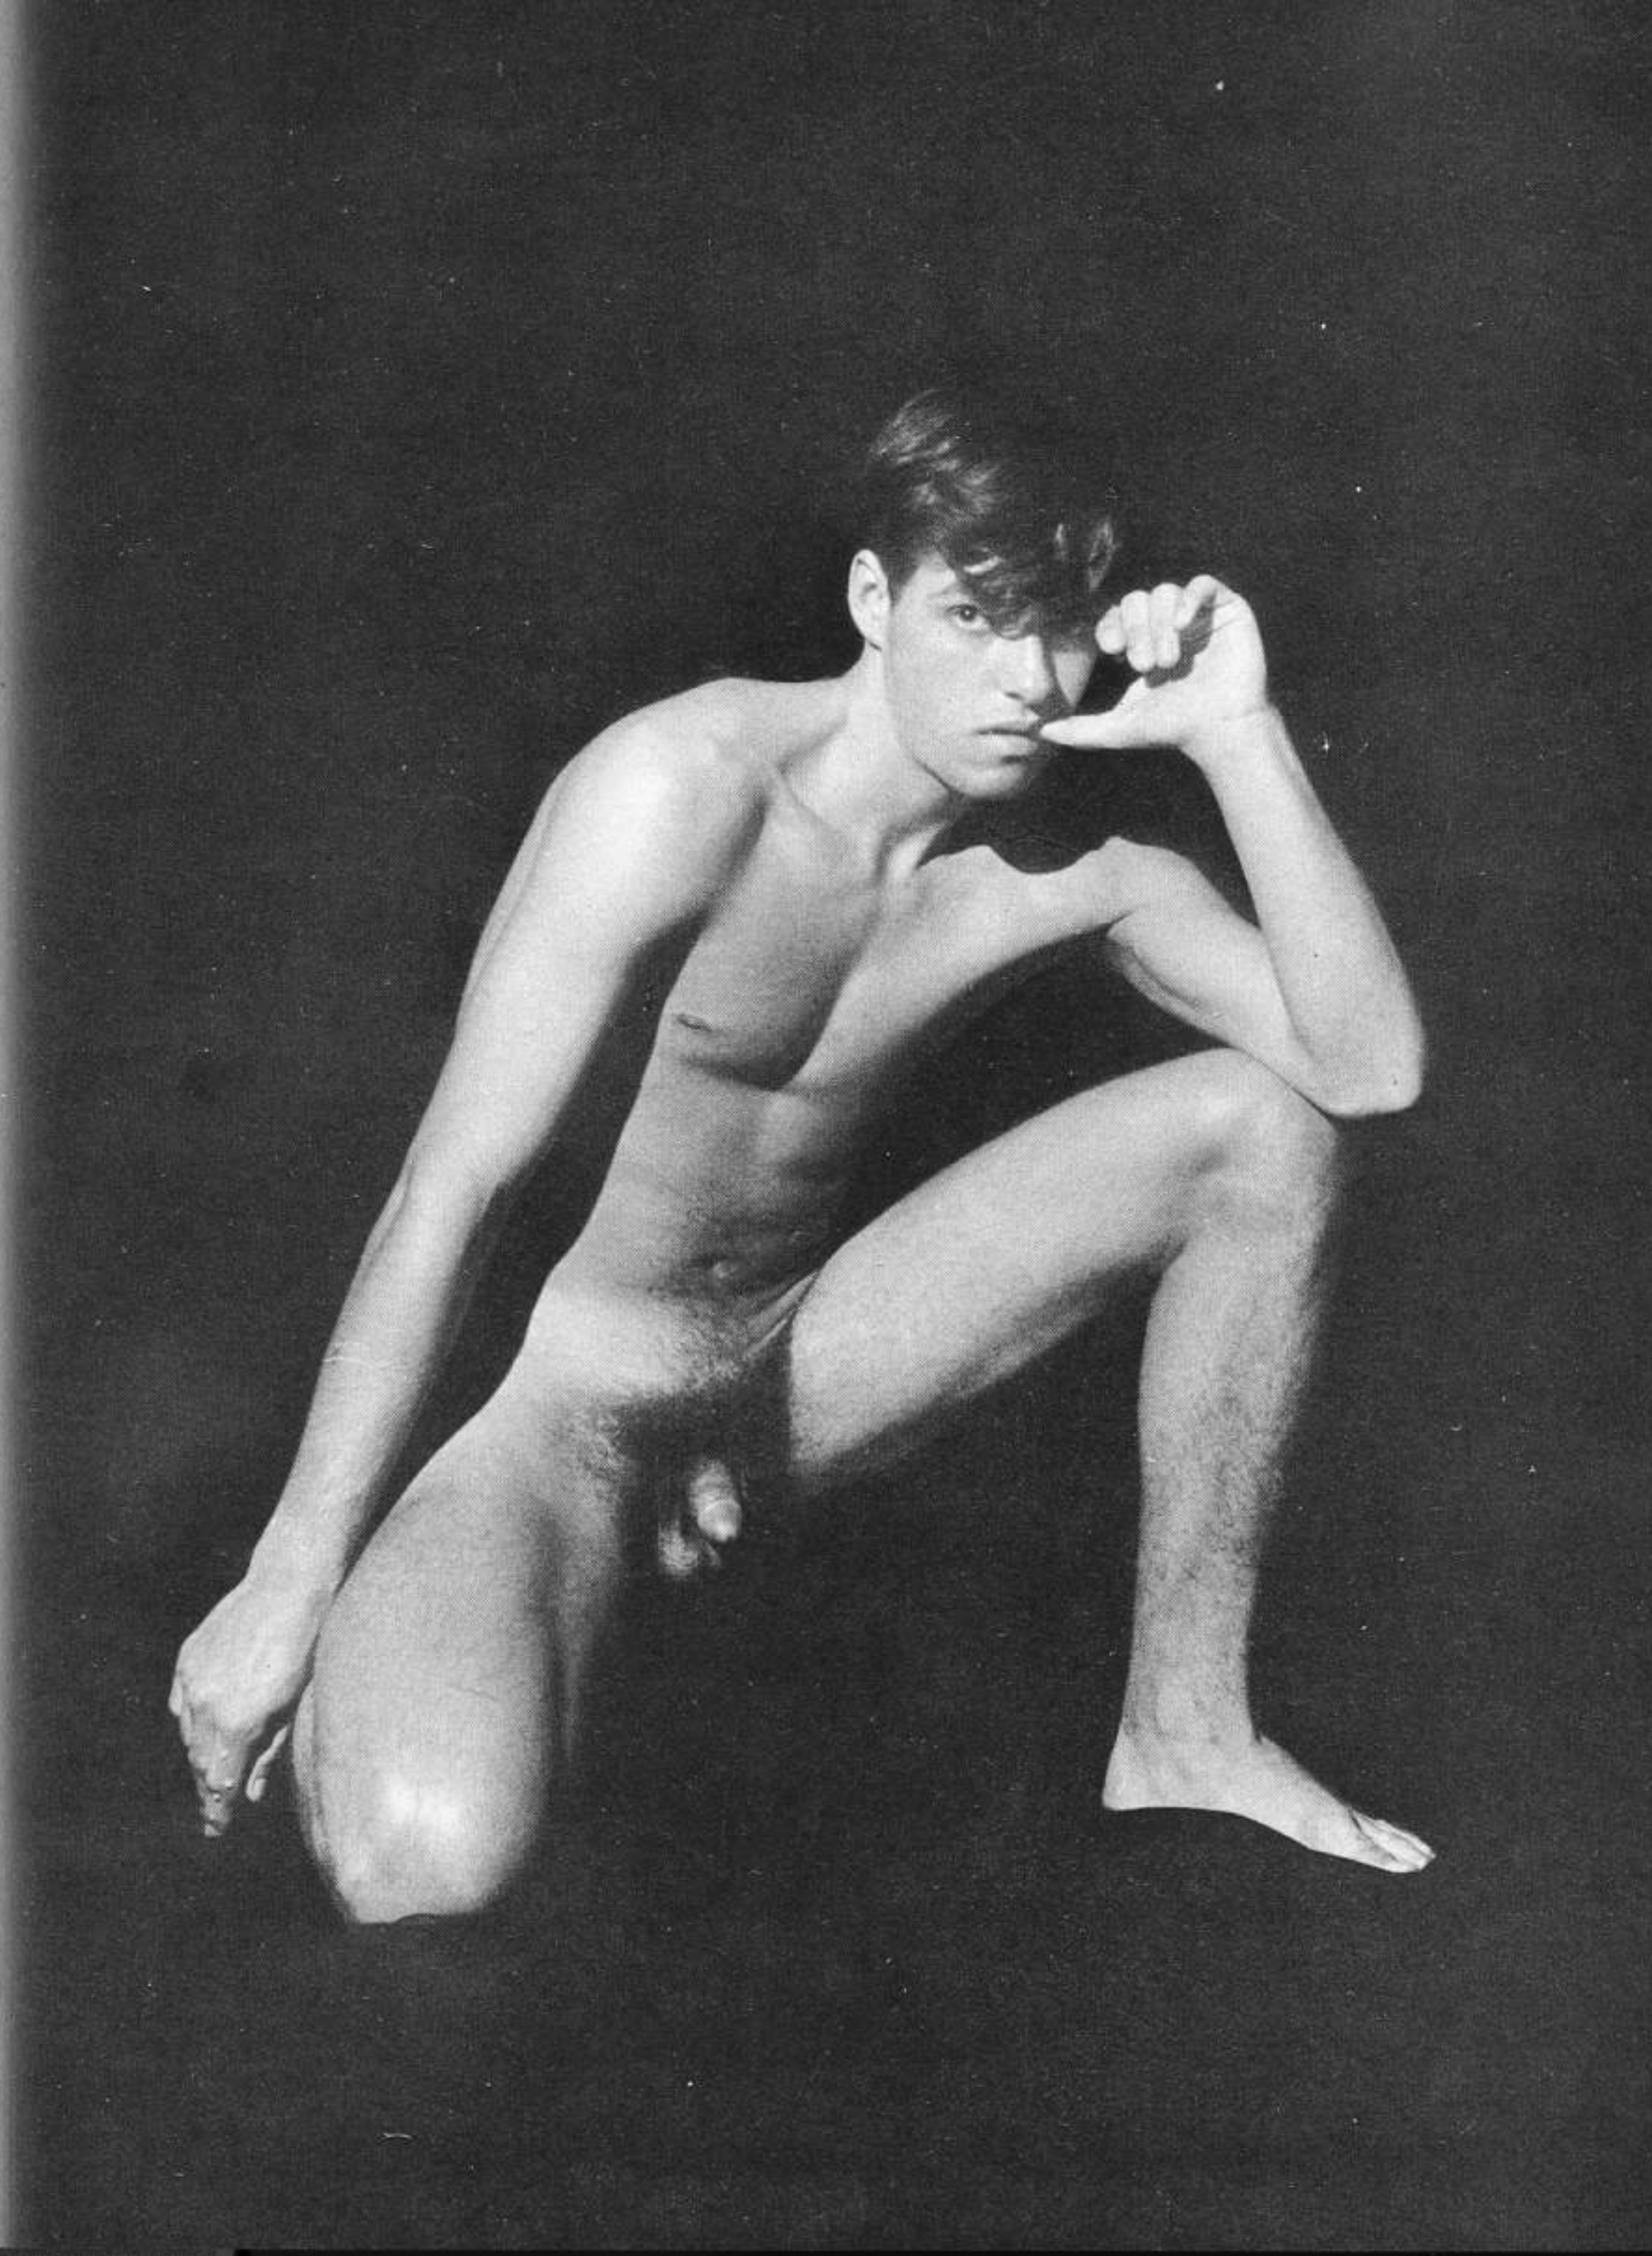


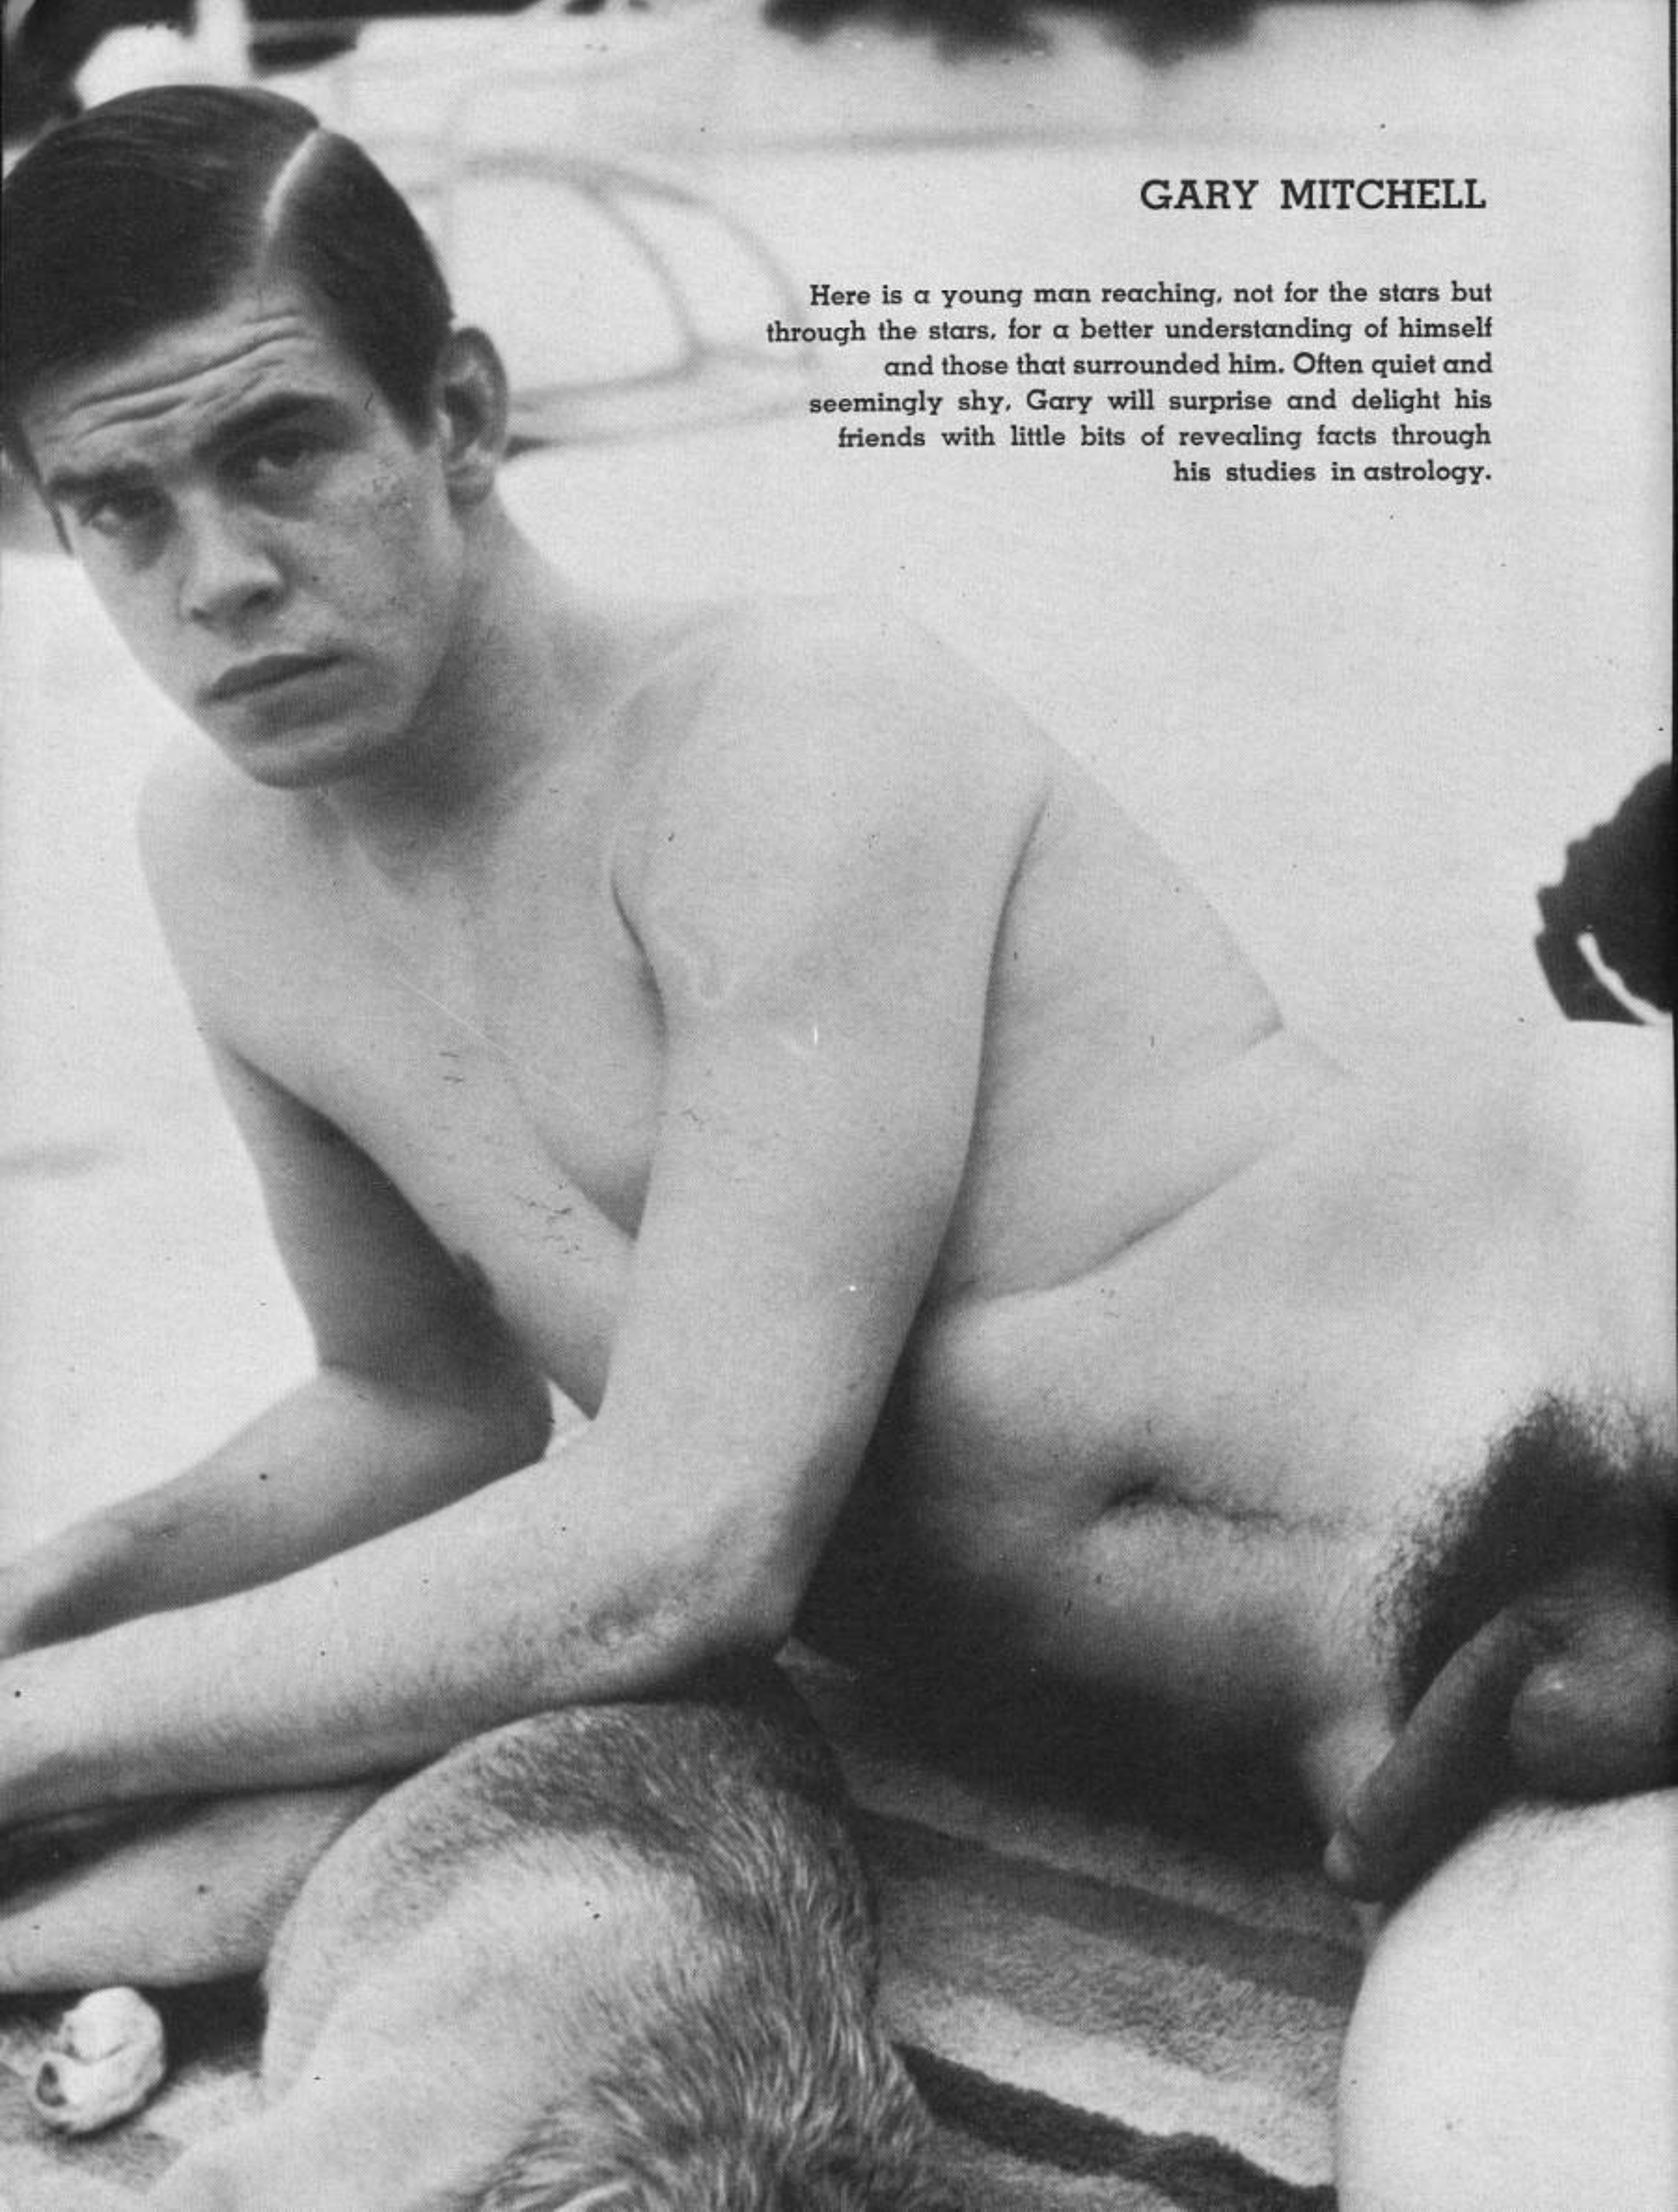






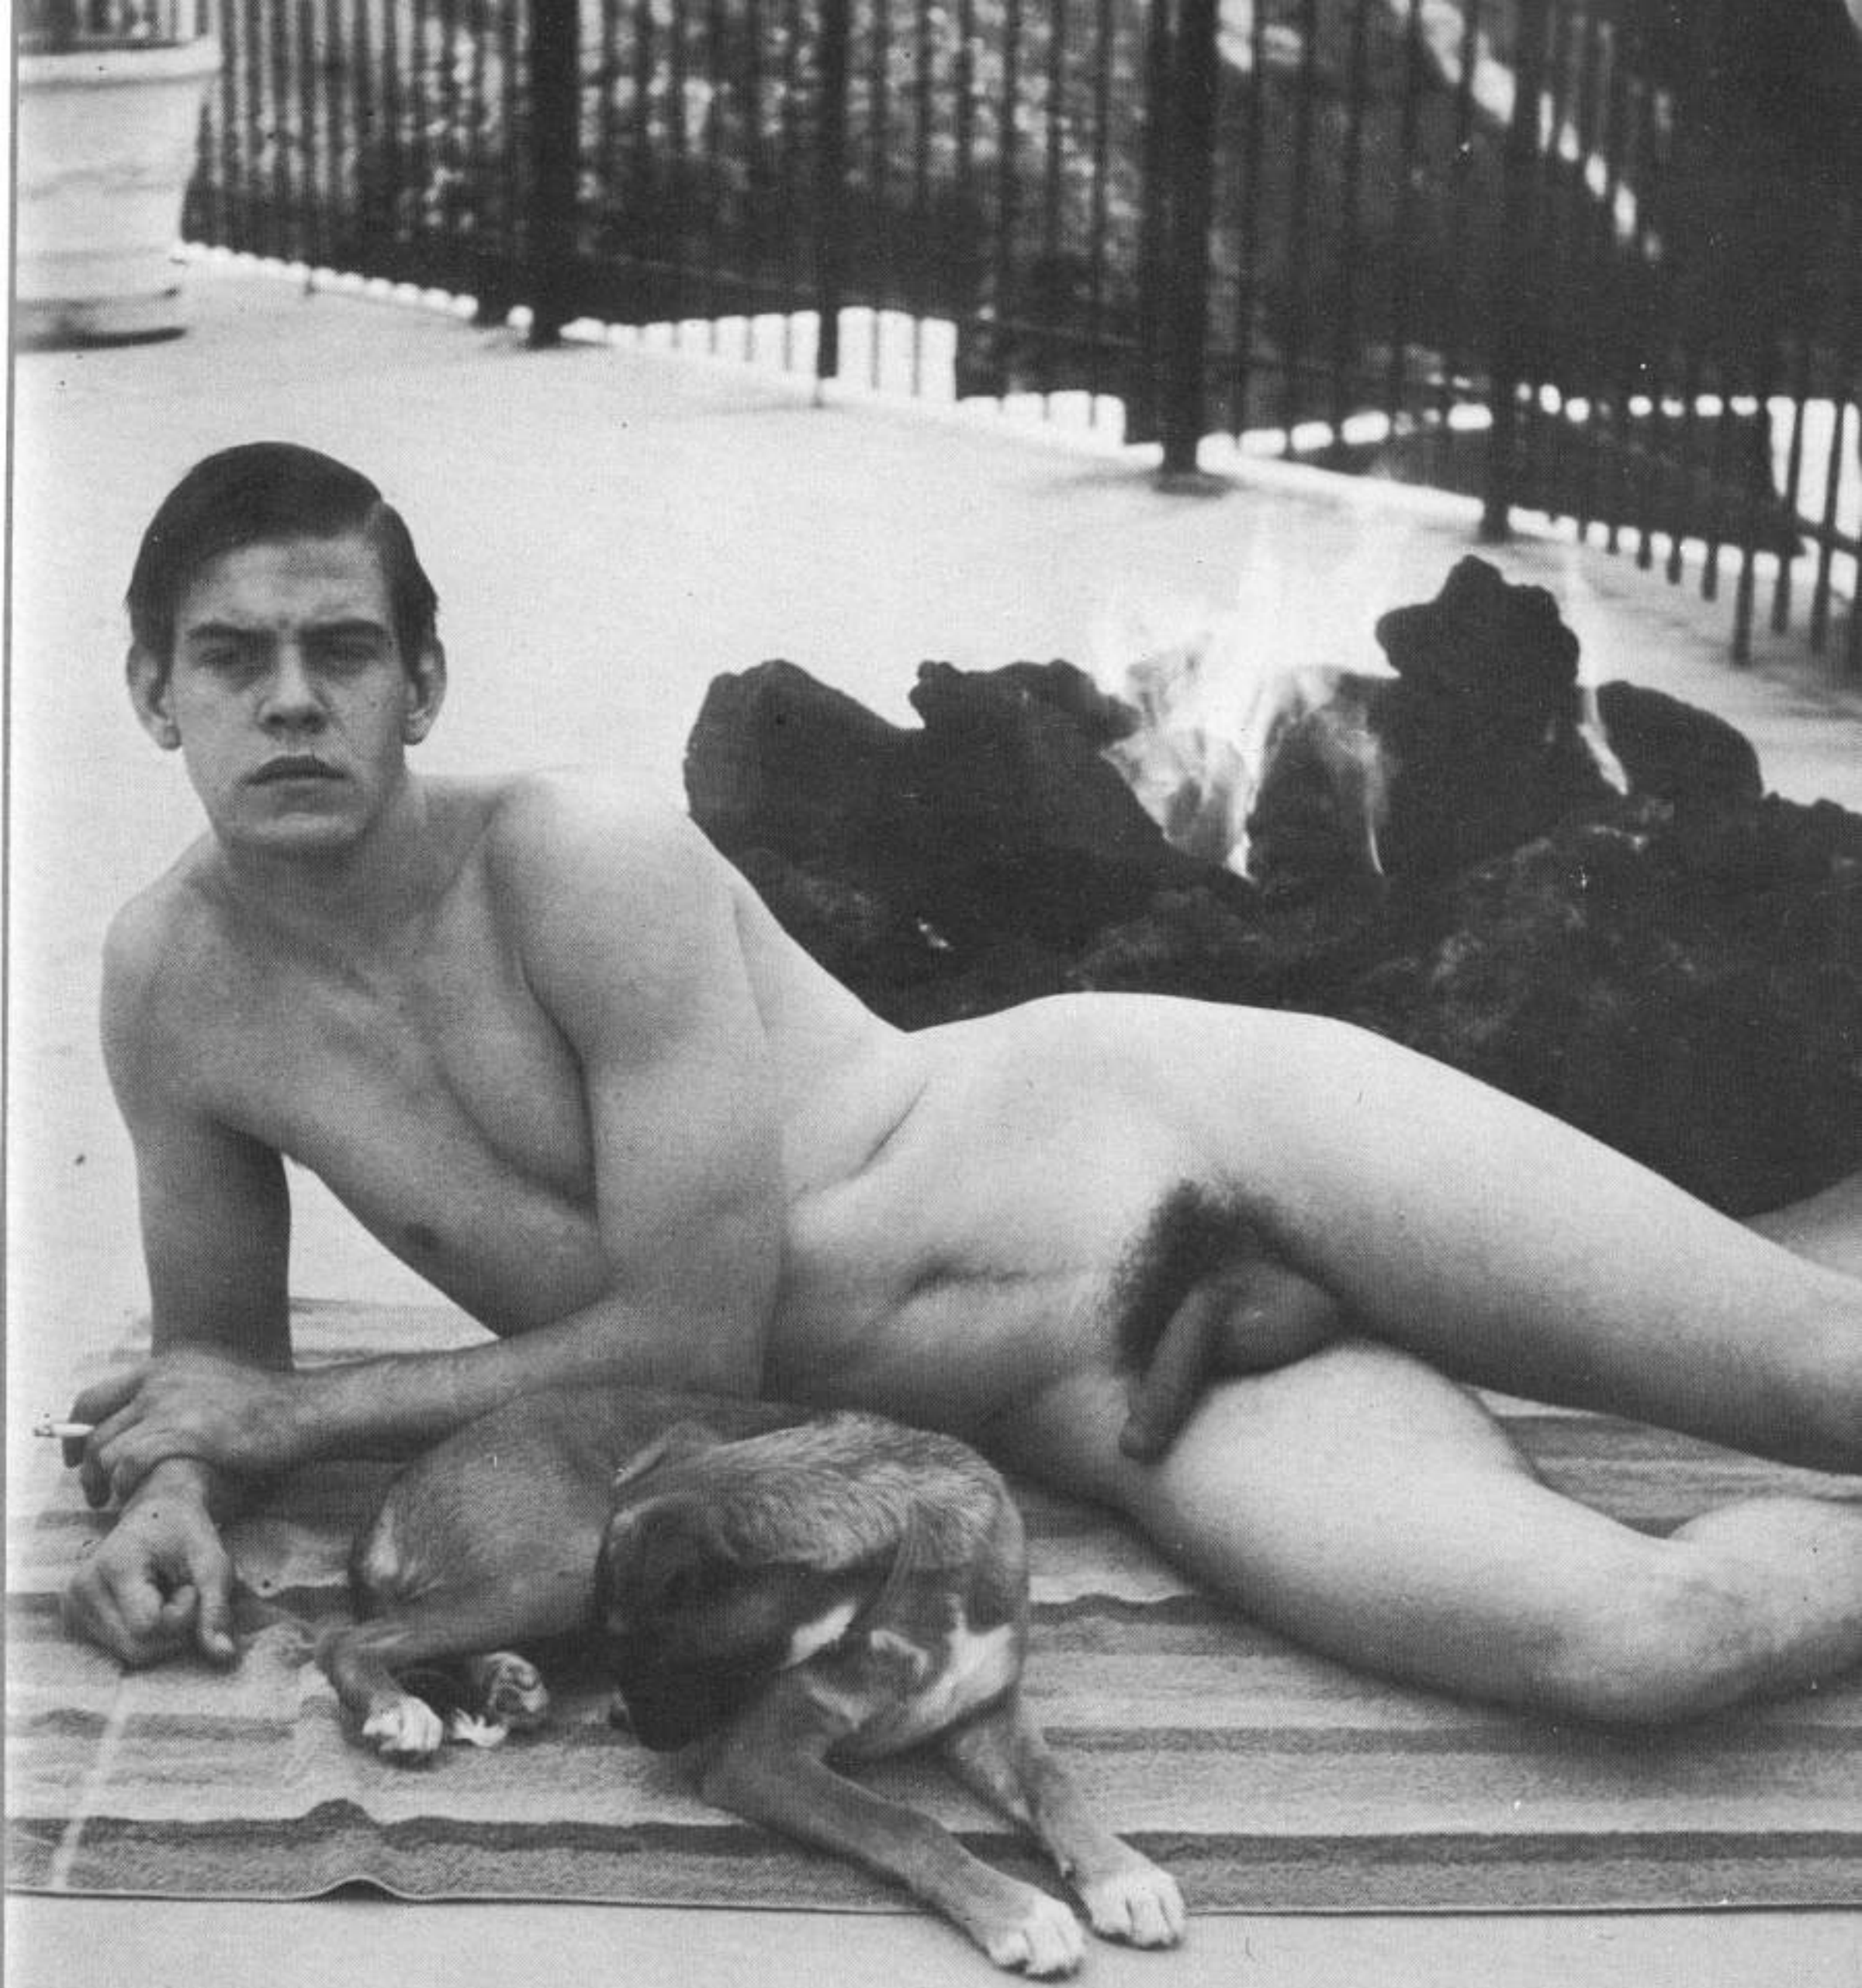






GARY MITCHELL

Here is a young man reaching, not for the stars but through the stars, for a better understanding of himself and those that surrounded him. Often quiet and seemingly shy, Gary will surprise and delight his friends with little bits of revealing facts through his studies in astrology.



DAVID REED

David is always smiling and always in a good mood. Everyone takes an immediate liking to him, be they young or old. It seems that he radiates a warmth that is genuine. None of these dreary days for Dave. WE would like to see more of this apporach to life from other people. Everything would be much more fun.
